SOFT COLLARS ARE MAKING WOMEN MORE BEAUTIFUL

SHOWING SOME OF THE MOST POPULAR AND PRACTICAL COLLAR STYLES

Mrs. J. B. Robinson, Brice-av, entertained members of the Past Chief's association of the Pythian Sisters at her home, Thursday evening.

One of the first lessons every girl should learn is that a bit of white about the neck makes her instantly younger looking, more feminine, and more dangerous.

Men may know how to flatter with words, but women know how to do it with collars. Women are now realizing with a pang of regret that they have been "sold" for too long a time on the bateau neckline with its severe, uncompromising line and its too decided contrast between the neck and the frock.

Even the evening gowns are softening the treatment of the neckline and practically every daytime costume, whether of serge, satin, crepe or begaline, has its separate collar. This may be so narrow you can scarcely find it, or the outstanding feature of the costume—but it's there.

CLUB PLEDGES ARE READY

Active members of the Woman's Music club, of which Mrs. Charles Black is the president, have received their pledge cards for the music club season 1924-25 and are now seeking new memberships. Each member is asked to secure ten new members by July 1, at which time the season ticket stubs will be placed before the public.

The concert program for next year is not yet complete, although members of the executive committee, of which Mrs. Black is the chairman, have several artists and engagements under consideration. The program will be announced within the near future.

The present year's program, which came to a close at the appearance of the famous St. Olaf choir on April 9, was without doubt one of the most successful ever had. Such artists as Louis Gravereux, harpist, the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Nikolai Sokoloff, Albert Spalding, violinist, Olga Samarov, pianist, and the St. Olaf choir, whose director is the well known F. Nelinus Christensen, appeared before the city's very enthusiastic audiences.

DAMAGE TRAIL LEFT BY AUTO CHILD LABOR MEASURE PASSES IN HOUSE

OHIO VOTERS TO PASS ON BIG ISSUES

Harry Daugherty Will be Center of Hot Fight, Leaders Predict

COX IS FAVORED

Coolidge Also Expected to Carry State In Tuesday Primary

Ohio voters at the state's preferential primary Tuesday will decide several political issues of major importance to the state and nation. First in point of interest will possibly be their reception of the candidacy of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, for delegate at large to the Republican convention on the Coolidge side.

Daugherty was for Coolidge before he resigned from his high office. His name was already on the ballots. But it remains to see how the Republican voters will take to his arrangement.

Next in point, undoubtedly, will be how Democratic voters will espouse the cause of James M. Cox, party standard bearer in 1920. Cox is opposed by William G. McAdoo in the scramble for the Ohio delegation.

Third, will Ohio, as reflected in pledged delegates, support without rift the man who stepped into the place from which death removed Warren G. Harding, of Marion.

TWO FAVORITES

Cox and Coolidge seem to be the probable winners on the basis of party backing. Both seem to have the support of the regular organizations in their parties. Former Harding forces are behind Coolidge, his Ohio manager being Hoke Doulinen, of Marion, a close friend of the late president.

Candidacy of Harry M. Daugherty seems to be holding the spot light of interest, due in part to the fact that Cox and Coolidge are conceded to have easy sailing by observers, while there has been little to indicate in advance how the voters are going to react regarding Daugherty.

Four years ago, altho admittedly leader of the Harding forces, Daugherty was turned down by Ohio Republicans as a delegate to the Chicago convention.

Cox forces in Ohio have been quietly mobilizing their heavy artillery for the test with the cohorts of William Gibbs McAdoo, his contestants for the delegation.

FOUR SLATES

Choice of four slates is at the option of the voters. There are Cox and McAdoo, on the Democratic side and Hiram Johnson and Calvin Coolidge on the G. O. P. ticket. Coolidge and Cox, however, are the only ones to have complete slates.

Johnson concludes his hurried sweep thru the state Saturday touching only the larger industrial centers, where it is expected he will show his greatest strength.

Republicans will elect seven delegates at large, seven alternates and 44 district delegates and alternates. Democrats will elect eight delegates and eight alternates at large, and the same number of district delegates and alternates as the Republicans.

Women will contest with men in almost every district. Out of 236 competing candidates 49 are women. Very little campaigning has been done and there have been few attacks and counter attacks.

Returns are expected to be speeded up by the system instituted by the secretary of state. It was tried out last November and the results were known in a comparatively short time.

DELEGATES NAMED

Delegates at large on the Cox ticket are: James E. Campbell, Judson Harmon, Attee Pomerene, J. Henry Goede, T. J. Duffy, W. V. Purbin, Mrs. Minnie Siddall, Eleazar D. Johnson.

Alternates are: Mrs. Rudolph Lanfond, J. S. Myers, L. G. Neely, J. A. O'Dwyer, Joel O. Shoup, T. T.

Wealthy New Yorker Accused of Attempted Wife Murder

Many Puzzling Phases of Case Yet to be Solved

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—(Associated Press)—Charged with having attempted to murder his wealthy wife by poisoning her food, Charles G. Baring, eastern advertising representative for the Minneapolis Heat Regulating Co., Saturday night was held without bail after having pleaded "guilty" to the charge except as to the intent to kill."

The mild-mannered, aristocratic-looking prisoner is 40 years of age, maintains offices in the Grand Central Terminal building in New York City, and is reputed wealthy in his own right, was incoherent and near collapse as he was arraigned, handcuffed to state troopers, in County Judge Bleakley's court at Yonkers.

Because Baring was without counsel, the judge recorded a plea of not guilty. Baring later retained local counsel.

A special grand jury was called for Monday.

Authorities were reticent about the case. They indicated that several puzzling phases remained to be cleared up before it could be presented to the grand jury. All they would reveal was that Mrs. Baring, a few years her husband's senior, filed the charges last April 14; that she expected soon to become a mother; that a young woman living in the west was named in connection with the search for a native for the poisoning; and that state police had been working on the case for ten days.

Baring was arrested Friday night.

CLEVELAND.—The body of Louis Miller, a 16-year-old high school boy who disappeared March 22, was found in the lake Saturday night. The boy had trouble in meeting requirements in mathematics and had been rebuked, it was said. The body was identified by the boy's mother in the county morgue.

"MAN OF THE IRON MASK" PICKED AS DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

WASHINGTON, — (Associated Press) — Big entertainment at its spring dinner Saturday night, the Gridiron Club of Washington newspaper correspondents held a national political convention with music. It was replete with a hodge-podge of song and satire in which no political party was spared.

The Republican nomination was accorded to President Coolidge, but the Democratic standard-bearer proved to be the most famous dark horse in history—"The Man in the Iron Mask." The Gridiron Singers sang the keynote of the dinner to the tune of "Sixty Seconds Every Minute."

"We do not intend to show a picture done in oil; we've turned that one to the wall; we'll display, instead, a good old portrait time can't spoil."

"One that smiles upon us all; smiling still thru all this structure—is your Uncle Sam's picture—It's a portrait scandal can't soil."

A rattling chorus brought out, among other things, the snappy lines: "Uncle's never in a jam—can't get the blues, don't give a dam."

PUT THRU BY VOTE OF 297 TO 66

Resolution Provides for Another Amendment to The Constitution

NOW UP TO SENATE

Act Empowers Congress to Prohibit Work of Persons Under 18

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—A resolution proposing a child labor amendment to the constitution was passed late Saturday by the house.

Every effort to modify the measure, which now goes to the senate, failed. It would empower congress to limit, regulate or prohibit the labor of children under 18 years of age. The vote was 297 to 69 or 53 more than the two-thirds required for passage.

Thirteen Republicans and 66 Democrats voted against the resolution. Brand of Ohio, was one of the thirteen Republicans.

Voting in the affirmative were 167 Republicans, 138 Democrats, one Socialist, and one Independent.

Paved against the amendment were:

Representatives Laird, McLeod, Snyder, Vard and Welsh, Republicans, and Bell, Buchanan, Humphreys, Lee, of Georgia; Stevenson and Ward, North Carolina, Democrats.

BACKED BY LONGWORTH

Representative Longworth of Ohio, the Republican leader, aided Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, author of the resolution, in conducting the fight for the measure.

The opposition was directed by Chairman Graham of the judiciary committee, Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, and Representatives Summer of Texas and Montague, of Virginia, Democrats.

Opposition was based chiefly on the ground that the proposed amendment, made necessary if congress is to have authority to deal with the problem, by the action of the supreme court in twice declaring federal child labor laws unconstitutional, would constitute an invasion of state rights.

On the other hand proponents of the resolution contended that a federal standard must be set up to bring certain states which have been backward in the enactment of child labor legislation to a more rigid requirement. The resolution would enable congress to set a minimum standard beyond which states would be free to go in controlling the problem.

Determined efforts were made to exempt from the provisions of the resolution children employed on farms. A series of amendments to this end were rejected in rapid order by votes of more than two to one.

GARRETT LOST A BATTLE TO REQUIRE STATE CONVENTIONS, RATHER THAN LEGISLATURES, TO RATIFY THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT, WHILE REPRESENTATIVE LINTHICUM, DEMOCRAT, MARYLAND, SPOKE UNSUCCESSFULLY TO REQUIRE RATIFICATION WITHIN SEVEN YEARS.

Russian Nobleman Husband Blamed for Tragedies In Chicago, Detroit

DETROIT—(Associated Press)—A repudiation by her pseudo Russian nobleman husband is the theory advanced by Detroit police as the motive that actuated Wanda Elaine Stofa, a former United States assistant district attorney and a bright light in Chicago's Latin quarters, to take her life in a hotel here Friday.

Theodore Glasgow, who local police say has a checkered career, is now being sought for his explanation for the tragedy which had its inception in the fatal shooting of Henry Manning, caretaker of the estate of Y. Kenley Smith, Chicago advertising man and befriendee of Miss Stofa. Glasgow is believed to be in hiding in Detroit's foreign section.

The body of Miss Stofa was scheduled to be placed on a midnight train for Chicago. It was to be accompanied by several artist friends who came here earlier in the day.

DRUNKENESS IS CHARGED TO DRIVER

Alleged Drug Addict Is Held by Police Under Serious Charge

HORSE INJURED

Buggy, Automobiles and Fence Fail to Stop Motorist Here

An accused drunken automobile driver on a wild ride Saturday night on heavily traveled Lima streets threatened lives of scores of pedestrians, accounted for three automobile wrecks, injury of a horse, damage of a buggy and then landed in city jail after his machine plunged thru a fence.

Thurlo Coe, 27, of 431 1/2 S. Main St., accused by police as the driver of the automobile, was arrested on charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Police captured him on S. Main-st as he was completing a return course to the business section.

The wild ride started at West and Elm-sts, with the first smash up. Paul Christy, of Celina, while driving north on West-st was the victim. Coe is charged by Christy with sideswiping his machine as he drove across Elm-st.

The wildly driven automobile went east on Elm-st to Main-st crossing where a number of pedestrians were reported to have narrowly escaped being run over as the machine turned south on Main-st and zig-zagged thru a stream of automobiles to E. Kirby-st where a turn was made in front of other motorists who were compelled to stop suddenly to avoid collisions.

FRANCE SMASHED

On Kirby-st near the Cliff Wood Coal Co. the machine swerved from side to side on the street and plunged thru a board fence, police say. The driver backed the car onto the road and proceeded at an alleged high rate of speed to Central-av, where the auto crashed into a horse and buggy owned by Robert Shepard, 1578 W. Spring-st.

Shepard escaped injury but his horse was bruised and cut and the buggy badly damaged, he reported to police. After the Shepard accident the machine appeared on S. Main-st and crashed into an automobile owned by J. D. Brady, of Columbus Grove. Brady reported to police that fenders on his machine were damaged and the car scratched when the other car sideswiped his from behind.

Near the city market house on S. Main-st as the automobile proceeded north toward the business section it crashed into a parked automobile and nearly tore the right fender loose from the body.

Shortly after the beginning of the wild ride, police started out and followed the wrecking automobile in its damaging trip thru the city streets. Wrecks marked the course and at the city market house police overtook the automobile and arrested Coe, who was at the wheel.

ALLEGED "DOPER"

Coe is said to be the drug addict who broke into Coroner Frank Smith's office after "dope" and engaged in a desperate fight to gain possession of the drug. Several days following the theft episode he was arrested by police and while detained at headquarters police were forced to give him "shots of dope" to satisfy his craving.

Coe was turned over to custody of his father and it is reported that he just returned to Lima from Red Key, Ind., where he took treatments in a sanitarium to cure the habit.

Whether he was under the influence of "dope" and liquor when arrested Saturday night is undecided. Police charged him with being drunk. In city jail he raved for several hours and then fell into a heavy sleep.

Coe will be arraigned Monday before Judge Neil R. Poling on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Conviction carries a maximum fine of $50 and 30 days in the county jail. When he appears before the court a long list of damage settlement requests will be presented as police headquarters Saturday night was the scene of excitement as owners of damaged automobiles appeared to press claims for damages.

CLEMENCY GRANTED

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas—Clemency has been granted to eight of the 12 military prisoners originally sentenced to hang or serve life terms for the murder in 1918 of Sheby Hise, prisoner and alleged "stool pigeon" at the army disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth on recommendation of the special war department board which recently investigated cases of army prison to "Hamlet in 1924," the "Colored Delegate" to the Republican convention, Soviet recognition, the "murder" of the World Court, Hiram Johnson, Secretary Mellon, the recent cabinet changes, and "Miss Democracy on Broadway."

The Gridiron players dramatized the Third Party idea in the form of a 1924 version of Hamlet. Assisting the "Melancholy Dane" of present-day politics were two grave-diggers—a Non-Partisan League and a Farmer-Labor Party—who were preparing graves for the coffins of the "Grand Old Party" and "Miss Democracy" visible in the shadows of the stage. After one grave-digger had buried the other to "get them gone to the bootlegger and fetch me a tow of likker, but be careful or you may be shot for a Senator," he turned up a skull which proved to be that of the "poor old Bull Moose" and gave Hamlet an opportunity to soliloquize appropriately.

The Bobbed-hair Bandit, caused a furor. Before Brigadier-General Smedley D. Butler, director of public safety in Philadelphia, could make an arrest, announcement was made that the Bobbed-hair Bandit had departed with an "avocato."

"He had been pursuing Frank A. Vanderlip for sometime, to get him to give her a job, and she thought he was coming in here," it was explained.

The attire of the dinner was the gamut of the "Bobbed-Hair Bandit."

GRAND JURY QUIZ LIQUOR GRAFT

Investigation Appears Probable in Dry Campaign

Grand Jury which convenes in common pleas court Monday to investigate law violations may recess Tuesday to allow members to vote. Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott announced.

Charges against eight prisoners in custody of officers will be probed by the jury.

Several changes may be made in the personnel of the jury, it was learned Saturday, on account of jurors having moved out of the county or being excused because of sickness.

Probe of an alleged attempt to bribe C. C. Stroup, state dry agent, is destined to become a major factor in the jury to look into, county officials declared Saturday.

BRUTAL ATTACK IS FRUSTRATED

Assailant Escapes Police Net at City Park

An attempted brutal attack on a six-year-old girl was frustrated Saturday afternoon at City park when her screams attracted her older sister and frightened away the assailant.

Helen Vogel, 11, and Mary Vogel, 6, were at the park when a man called them into a campers' tent. He gave Helen 25 cents to buy ice cream. As she left the tent he attempted the attack on the child who screamed for help.

The man, who was described to police as being about 27 years old and weighing about 150 pounds, jumped into an automobile and drove thru the crowds crowded by kite contest visitors and escaped police who searched the grounds.

M'CRAY ON STAND

A Polish term of endearment, freely translated, as "mother's darling."

The letter also contained $150 in money, two bonds and three letters concerning a probate case in Philadelphia involving the estate of a priest there who had entrusted her with the probating. Not having the power of attorney, she had entrusted the matter to a Philadelphia lawyer, the letter indicated.

The 24-year-old woman lawyer, who came to this country a poor immigrant and became a assistant United States district attorney, only to end her life after she had gone to the home of Y. Kenley Smith, wealthy advertising man here, with whom she was infatuated, and shot Henry Manning, Smith's caretaker, will have an elaborate funeral when his body is brought back here from Detroit.

Former companions of the girl in Chicago's "little Bohemia" sent representatives to Detroit to accompany the body here and the section populated with artists, poets and writers who were her friends, planned to attend the funeral in a body.

"Ted" Glasco, the young Russian who posed as Miss Stora's husband, was again brought into the case when relatives of the girl asked that detectives be stationed at their home, declaring they believed Glasco was responsible for the girl's actions and for her suicide and that they feared he would come here and attack them. Detectives were placed on guard.

Mainly About People

AGED ITALIAN IS STILL MISSING

Fears Entertained for His Life by His Family

Expiration of a 24 hour city wide search by police for Antonio Milazzo, 77, Italian, who mysteriously disappeared Friday night while enroute to the home of a son, presents a blank wall in the investigation with authorities fearing for the life of the aged man.

Remote possibility looms that Milazzo fell the victim to highwaymen who knew of his habit of carrying large sums of money on his person.

Theory advanced by police tends to discredit the foul play supposition and involves the theory that the aged man may have become temporarily deranged mentally and wandered away.

Milazzo left the home of his son, Salvatore, 638 N. Union-st, late Friday to go to the home of another son, Alfred, of 438 Ewing-av but failed to reach there.

Late Friday night when members of the family feared for his safety police were summoned and started an extensive city wide search but Saturday night they admitted that they are no closer to a solution than they were when the disappearance was reported.

Milazzo habitually carried large sums of money on his person and on this the members of his family expressed their fears to police that he might have been the victim of thugs.

Description of the missing man has been broadcast to adjoining cities and all police in Lima instructed to maintain a close watch for clues which should solve the mystery.

MAJOR ISSUES TO GET ATTENTION

Auberg, Mrs. Theo. A. Burnett, and William Green.

District delegates for Cox are: Dan H. Kirwan, James R. Marker; alternates are: Emin L. Kloeb and Galen Baker.

Delegates at large pledged to Wil-ian G. McAdoo are: Etta Evans, Cleveland, Blake C. Cook, Charles F. Hubbell, James A. Rice, John T. Adams, Ross C. Braulty, H. D. Birne.

Allen-co will send 19 delegates to the Democratic state convention.

Coolidge delegates at large are:

Mrs. John Gordon Battelle, Harry M. Daugherty, Simeon D. Fess, Charles L. Knight, William Cooper Proctor, Anna S. Tod, Frank B. Willis. Alternates are: Hallie Q. Brown, J. B. Carmell, Thomas S. Farrell, Wilma Sinclair Le Van, Fred D. Patterson, Marshall Sheppard and Edward Vollrath.

DISTRICT DELEGATES

District delegates for Coolidge are: John Galvin and Albert Herzog. Alternates are: W. T. Johnson and Mrs. Mollie Gabriel.

Johnson candidates for delegates at large are: George H. Bender, Frank G. Carpenter, George Cathcart, John D. Packler, Joe B. Kelley, I. G. Mathews, H. H. Timken. Alternates are: Francis J. Cook, John P. Innes, Cliff A. Pease, Anna S. Newmark, Harrison E. Stagman, and Mary E. Weaver.

Candidates for the fourth district are: Walter M. Strohmeier and J. Alvin North, Jr. Alternates for the district will be written in by the voters.

Candidates to the G. O. P. state convention from Allen-co are Sam Fleischet, A. H. Young, C. C. Long, William Roeder, G. H. Lewis, J. C. Montague, Sam Osburn, J. S. Cochran, Frank W. Downing, Elmore C. Gale, H. E. Garling, Wilbur M. Telof, Hank E. Simonson, Clement Ober, A. J. Gray, Ed Wentworth and A. J. Morris.

Voters will vote three ballots. First on his choice for president; the second a ballot containing the names of the delegates at large and to the state convention. The third ballot is for the Kirby-st bridge bond issue for $5,000.

The measure seems destined to be killed by lack of interest. It is opposed by the Lima Realtors' association and it is not believed that the rural population will favor it as it gives Lima a new bridge.

ASK FOR BRIDGE

Residents of Shawnee-ip petitioned for the bridge, which would afford them easier access to the city. No particular effort has been made to place the advantages of the bridge before the public.

In opposing the bridge realtors merely point out that it would be cheaper to pave North drive from Collett-st to Spencerville-rl and to build the bridge.

Supplies will go out to the 70 precincts in Lima Monday night.

Polls will open at 5:30 a.m. and close at 5:30 p.m. central standard time.

That only about 10 per cent of the registered vote of Allen-co will participate in the primary in indicated by absentees voting which closed Friday night.

Eight persons applied at the election board for ballots and five of them returned the ballots, Chairman J. M. Madigan declared. At the November election more than 80 persons voted by the absentees route.

Among the absentees to vote were Congressman and Mrs. John L. Cable, and John Galvin, steel magnate. They voted in the Republican primary.

Thad H. Brown, secretary of state, has announced the appointment of William Roeder, Bath-tp, Republican, and M. M. Bogart, Bluffton, Democrat, as members of the board of elections for terms commencing May 1.

Van Wert-co appointees were N. W. Elder, Van Wert, Republican, and J. O. Yahn, Ohio City, Democrat.

INSURANCE MEDICS WILL HOLD MEETING IN LIMA

All medical examiners and medical directors of life insurance companies in Ohio will be guests of the Lima Life Underwriters association at a special meeting to be held here about May 23, according to an announcement made Saturday.

Last Thursday the local association held a special meeting which was addressed by George Bradhoff, secretary of the state association of life underwriters. He talked on "Life Insurance and College Finances."

600 THEFT LAID TO LIMA GIRL

Helen Moore Under $1,000 Bail on Embezzlement Count

Helen Moore, 22, of 725 Green-lawn-av., bookkeeper at the Great Atlantic Pacific Tea Co., is at liberty under $1,000 bail for hearing at 8 a.m. Monday before Judge Neil R. Polling in criminal court on charge of embezzlement.

The girl is charged with embezzlement of $600 of the company funds, according to an affidavit issued in criminal court and served Saturday by Detectives Lawler and Taylor.

The alleged embezzlement of funds, it is claimed, occurred during a period of months and was discovered with examination of books by company officials, police are told.

The girl was arrested at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and was released shortly afterwards when $1,000 bail was placed for her appearance in court.

A. J. BARBER IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSION

A. J. Barber, Democrat, Amherst, will be a candidate for nomination for county commissioner, it was learned Saturday when papers were filed in his behalf at the election board office.

Because of improper certification, the petition was turned back for correction.

CENTRAL HI PLANS SENATE DEBATE

Annual Discussion Scheduled for Wednesday at School

FORM LITERARY SOCIETY

JUNIOR STUDENTS PREPARE FINAL ISSUE OF MIRROR

Interest in debating at Central High is expected to reach peak on May 3 when the Senate gives its annual debate before the student body.

Each year the Senators have a heated discussion before the class mates and usually the elaborate is a hit. This year more elaborate plans have been made and it is expected that parliamentary procedure will be more exact than usual.

It was decided to withhold the bill for discussion until time for the debate. Affirmative debaters will be Joe Fritz, president of the club, and Durbin Knisely. Franklin Doan will be affirmative alternate. Louis Pierce and Douglas Dole will support the negative and will be assisted by Morris Kaplan, alternate. William Stanyer will preside at the meeting. Miss Evelyn Bryington is advisor of the Senate.

The last issue of the Weekly Mirror was distributed Friday. Following the usual custom the issue was edited by a staff composed of Juniors. Farewells to the Senior class and resumes of the year's work together with stories concerning coming events were prominent throughout the edition.

The Junior cast that published the edition was composed of Franklin Doan, editor-in-chief; Darrell Grove, business manager; Frank Corry, feature editor; Gray Knisely, news editor; William Stanyer, club editor; Douglas Dole, advertising manager and George Macdonald, circulation manager.

A special meeting of the Firefly Dramatic Club will be held Wednesday after school at which time a special program will be given. The program was originally scheduled for last Wednesday but end of the year's regular club work necessitated the calling of a special meeting.

Organization of a Literary society was effected at a meeting of the Sophomore Class of Central high school, Wednesday evening. Paul Cohen was named president; Mary Roush, vice-president; Robert Binkley, secretary-treasurer. The program committee consists of Robert Kuhn, chairman, Mary Jane Steiner and Esther Sweeney.

At the annual election of officers of the Blue Triangle club held Wednesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. Marian Cost was named president of the organization. Corrine Garns is vice-president and Martha Huecker, secretary, while Janis Hammack was elected treasurer.

PROSECUTOR IS DARED TO FIGHT BY PRISONER

CLEVELAND—After a life imprisonment sentence had been imposed Saturday upon Arthur Brown, 24, for burglary of property worth only $132, Brown dared Assistant County Prosecutor Walter Krewson to fight.

As Brown was dragged from the court room by deputies he shouted that he would get even with Krew on some day.

Brown's long criminal record called forth the maximum penalty.

SKULL IS CRUSHED

California Man Is Murdered With Hammer

VALLÉJO, Cal.—(United Press)—Left lying in his apartment for five days after being brutally beaten with a hammer, Ernest Klepstein, a draftsman, was found late Friday. He died at a hospital.

A bloodstained hammer lying close to the unconscious man, was the only clue police had.

The murder was the most atrocious the state has ever known. Klepstein's skull had been crushed in at least a dozen places.

Friends said they heard a disturbance in Klepstein's apartment Saturday night. They did not investigate until his absence from work worried them. When he was found he was unconscious. His weakened condition from five days of suffering made the work of attending doctors of no avail.

CITY TABULATING MAIN-ST BIDS

Walther and Andrews Favored As Lowest Bidders

FOUR STREETS TO LET

Seven Contractors Seek Award of Summer Work

That complete tabulation of bids received at noon Saturday for the paving of Main-st from the Pennsylvania railroad to the Ottawa river, and three other Lima streets, will show the George B. Walther Construction Co., of Lima, and the Andrews Asphalt Paving Co., of Hamilton, low on the Main-st job, with Walther low on the other three streets also, it appeared Saturday afternoon.

Even though the tabulations were well under way Saturday evening, it will be several days before complete reports can be had, and the job will probably not be awarded until about May 10. Manager Bingham announced.

SEVEN BIDS FILED

Seven contractors, two representing out-of-town firms, submitted bids for the paving of Main-st, Park-av, Dewey-av and Leland-av.

Firms represented are the George B. Walther Construction Co., Lima; the Andrews Asphalt Paving Co., of Hamilton; Summers and Hardin, of Lima; Murray and Huber, of Lima; Churchill-Enck, of Lima; A. Frobose Co., of Lima; Zoff and Blodgett, of Lima.

Paving of nearly 35,000 square yards is involved in the present program with Main-st, and Dewey-av representing nearly all of the yardage.

With complete legislation passed for the improvement of 28 out of 52 streets on Lima's spring paving budget, 24 streets are still awaiting action on the part of both property owners and the commission. Either lack of petitions, the presence of schools on the stretch to be paved, or the absence of sewers has caused delay on those remaining.

WILLIS ADVOCATES NEW DISARMAMENT PARLEY

PITTSBURGH.—The calling of another disarmament conference was advocated by Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, Ohio, Saturday night in an address at the Grand Day dinner of the American Club. Senator Willis also commented at length upon the Senate investigations and predicted the nomination of President Coolidge at the Republican national convention at Cleveland, and his election in November.

General John J. Pershing outlined the nation's military policy "of building up the nucleus of an organization capable of expansion in time of peril into a great democratic citizen army."

COMMENCEMENT—The eighth grade commencement of the Blanchard schools will be held in the Gillies M. E. church Thursday, May 15. Howard Rogers will deliver the class address. Superintendent L. P. Cummins will present the diplomas.

PLAYHOUSES HAVE STOCK PLAYERS FOR SUMMER MONTHS

GOOD BILLS OPEN HERE ON SUNDAY

Hawkins-Ball Co. Presents "Pair of Sixes" for One Week With Matinee Performances

"Nancy Steps Out" Is Offering At Orpheum Theatre for Four Days Stand

Patrons of the Faurot and Orpheum theatres will be treated to a realm of comedy this week with "A Pair of Sixes" and "Nancy Steps Out" as the two respective attractions.

"Nancy Steps Out," which will be presented by the Whiz Bang Revue, is the work of Marshall Walker, who also directs it and has an important part in the production. Specialties have been written for each of the 22 members of the company and the play, as a whole, promises to be one of the best offerings to appear at the Orpheum this season. There will be a change of program Thursday.

George Whitaker and Florence Lewis head the cast of the Hawkins-Ball Co. at the Faurot in "A Pair of Sixes," which opens a week's engagement this afternoon. This is declared to be one of the greatest of American farces and in addition to its humorous situations contains a good love story.

Edward McArthur, Eva Sargent, Margaret Ryan, Milton Reich and Albert Moore will also be seen in prominent parts.

"PAIR OF SIXES"

Famous Comedy Opens Week Run at Faurot

The second week of the stock season at the Faurot promises to be one of the biggest laughing weeks Lima theatregoers have had for some time, with the Hawkins-Ball Co. presenting "A Pair of Sixes" for the entire week starting this afternoon.

"A Pair of Sixes" might sound like a very small hand in the American game of poker but in the play it would take a good combination to beat it. In addition to the pair, there is a lone "queen of hearts" which is sufficient intimation that the play is not only humorous but also has a love story.

George B. Nettleton and T. Boggs Johns are partners in a thriving digestive pill manufacturing concern. Continually at loggerheads and squabbling over who is the head and brains of the business they call in their attorney to dissolve the partnership. Having had this demand before he finds it hard to bring about a settlement. He suggests another plan whereby the two men are to play a show down hand of poker, the loser to act as butler in the household of the winner for a year. The contract stipulates that neither party can reveal the secret of the agreement, by so doing he forfeits $5,000 and his interest in the business.

Nettleton is the victor and Boggs Johns takes up his duties as a menial. When Boggs' fiance, Florence Cole, finds him as butler in the Nettleton household things become more complicated, because he cannot account for his presence in this position. However, Miss Cole takes a hand in the game and plays a mighty strong and powerful hand.

The full strength of the company is used in this attraction and the management emphasizes the fact that it is one of the best American farces ever staged by the company. Florence Lewis, George Whitaker, Edward McArthur, Eva Sargent, Margaret Ryan, Milton Reich and Albert Moore have the prominent roles in this week's play.

Monday night and every following Monday night during the summer will be bargain night. Matines will be presented on Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle in "Lilies of the Field"

The Sigma's attraction until Friday.

Betty Compson and Richard Dix in a scene from the Joseph Henabery Production "The Stranger" A Paramount Picture

Appearing for the first half of the week at the Quilina.

SEASON'S LEADING PICTURES SHOWING IN LIMA THEATRES

FOUR HOUSES OFFER FILMS OF INTEREST

Conway Tearle Plays Opposite Corinne Griffith in Pretty Love Story

Lon Chaney at Lyric Draws Big Crowd; Paramount Week at Quina; Majestic Good

It has been many weeks since local motion picture house managers have offered patrons such a list ofentious offerings as will be shown during the forthcoming week. Each production is heralded as an outstanding achievement of the season and boasts a galaxy of stars.

The Hunchback of Notre Dame, which has broken all attendance records at the Lyric since it opened last Wednesday, continues into this week, remaining until Thursday. Lon Chaney gives a remarkable performance in the title role, this will be followed by another interesting film attraction, Elinor Glyn's "Three Weeks" with Conrad Nagel and Aileen Pringle. Incidentally, this is the first appearance of this picture in Ohio.

"Lilies of the Field," comes to the Sigma this afternoon for a five day run. This film has been given a great deal of praise wherever it has been shown and has as its principal players two of the most prominent stars in filmdom—Conway Tearle and Corinne Griffith. The supporting cast is headed by Alma Bennett, Sylvia Breamer, Myrtle Stedman, Crawford Kent, Phyllis Haver and Clasy Fitzgerald.

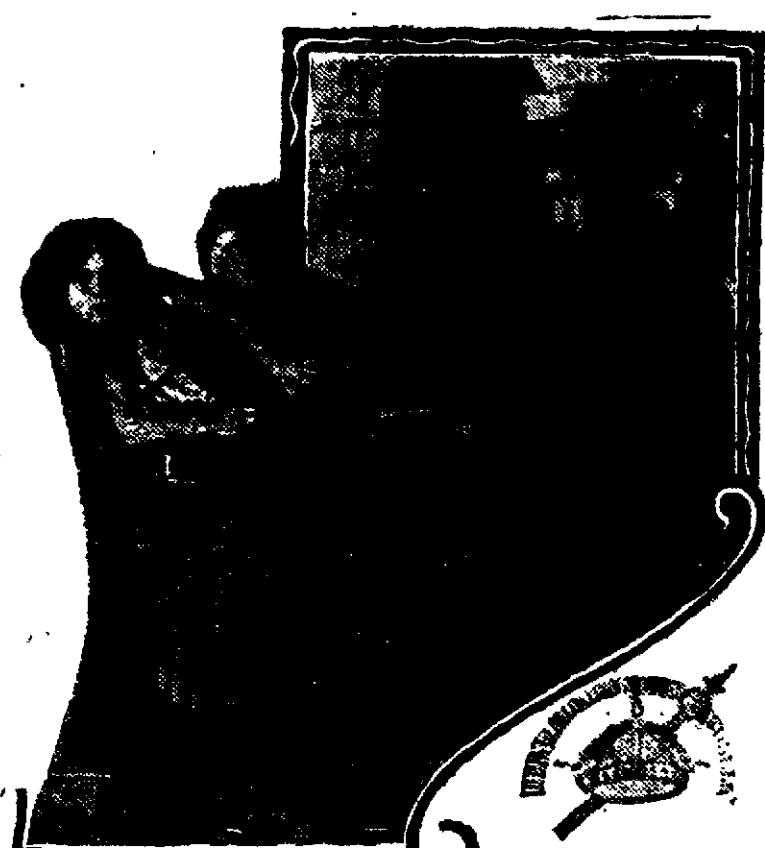

This is a Paramount week at the Quina with two recent productions on the program. The first is "The Stranger," a screen version of John Galsworthy's celebrated story. Betty Compson, Richard Dix, Lewis Stone and Tully Marshall make up the all-star cast. On Thursday comes, "The Dawn of Tomorrow," starring Jacqueline Logan.

Colleen Moore will be seen at the Majestic for the first three days of the week in "Flaming Youth," with Milton Sills and Elliott Dexter supporting her. "Male and Female," with an all-star cast, comes for a two day stay on Wednesday and will be followed by "The Hottentot" with Douglas MacLean.

SIGMA PROGRAM

gotten school of romance. Up until a few years ago writers and playwrights invariably climaxed their tales with wedding bells. But times have changed and today, more often than not, the march to the altar is the beginning of the story.

Such is the case with "Lilies of the Field" which opens a five day engagement today at the Sigma theatre. It also, however, ends at the same Corinne Griffith and Conway Tearle, who, since their appearance together in "Black Oxen" have been heralded as the screen's ideal lovers are again co-featured in this production.

Tearle has the role of Louis Willing, a wealthy bachelor, who has grown cynical because of the fawning of designing women and grafting men. He has lost all faith in the aimless life which he has led.

He determines to make a world tour, to break away from his past associations, and on the eve of his departure stages a large party. As the evening wears away he grows weary of the ape-like antics of his guests and goes to the library to seek seclusion from the maddening uproar. As he crosses the threshold, he is surprised to find a girl eagerly reading a book.

Amazed and puzzled, he watches her for a while, for the girl obviously is out of place in such bizarre surroundings. Half an hour later Willing found a new interest in life; he had found a woman who didn't try to vamp him.

The strange experiences that grow out of this meeting are said to be fascinatingly portrayed in "Lilies of the Field."

opens a four-day engagement this afternoon.

Under the title of "The First and the Last," the original story from which "The Stranger" was adapted, was written by no less an authority on novel plot construction and characterization than John Galsworthy, famous British novelist and playwright.

So well did Galsworthy like the theme of this story, that he used it three times: first as an abbreviated short story, next as a play and finally as an elaborated story. It was the first publication that attracted the attention of Joseph Henabery and paved the way for its present version on the screen under Paramount auspices.

The story, an appealing love drama, has London with its sombre streets, criminal courts, stately homes and gloomy prisons as its material background. One of the powerful incidents of the story is the arrest and trial of an innocent man.

A glance over the cast will convince you that it has been selected with great care. Paramount called Betty Compson back from England to be featured with Richard Dix, Lewis Stone and Tully Marshall, whom you all know as artists of the first rank. The supporting cast includes Robert Schable, Clarence Burton, Frank Nelson and little Mary Jane Irving.

"The Stranger" will be accompanied by the Quina News and Aesop's Fables, making up a program of variety and splendid quality.

"The Dawn of a Tomorrow" which moves into the Quina on Thursday, is Paramount's new production of the famous novel and play by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett. Acted first on the stage by Eleanor Robson, then on the screen by Mary Pickford, the famous stellar role of "Glad" now falls to the lot of the beautiful and gifted Jacqueline Logan, whose recent work in Kipling's "The Light That Failed" stamped her as an actress of fine appeal. The supporting cast will include David Torrence, Raymond Griffith, Harris Gordon, Guy Oliver and Alma Bennett.

This weekend program will also have the Quina News and the second of the new series of the Leatherpushers with Billy Sullivan in the role of the boxing hero. It bears the Witzewish title, "He Loops to Conquer" and is said to be full of both fun and excitement.

"THE STRANGER"

Pretty Love Story Stars Betty Compson

Paramount reserves the screen at the Quina this week, both "The Stranger" and "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" being products of the Famous Players-Lasky Co.

Motion picture goers who have been clamoring for something different in the way of motion picture story material and plot development are certain to welcome Joseph Henabery's production, "The Stranger" which first three days of the week. Colleen Moore has the leading feminine role as Patricia Fentriss, youngest daughter of a very modern family of three beautiful girls, whose indulgent and wealthy parents give them free reign in the gratification of their whims.

It is an amusing story of this jazz age as it is lived without regard to the conventions of a certain set of affluent and respected members of society.

Patricia's numerous shallow love affairs and her final awakening in a real romance form the nucleus of the plot.

The all-star cast includes besides

Colleen Moore, Milton Sills, Myrtle Stedman, Sylvia Breamer, Betty Compson and Elliott Dexter.

This will be followed on Wednesday by another all-star feature, "Male and Female," with Gloria Swanson, Lila Lee, Thomas Meighan, and Elliott Dexter. Douglas MacLean will be seen on Friday and Saturday in his famous comedy, "The Hottentot".

Beware!

Bids have been opened for the paving of Main-st. The firm low in the tenders has not been determined and will not be for some days. It appears that a good offer will be available on the work.

City officials have several dangers to guard against in the paving of this street. First of all, they must make certain that the street is ready to pave. We don't want it torn up as soon as the material is laid and we do not want it to sink in spots due to faulty filling of trenches.

The officials also must exercise every care in selecting a material. This must be chosen with a view to service of a satisfactory nature as well as to cost. They must guard against underhand methods that will cost the property owners a big sum. There is certain to be a hot argument over the type of material and in the selection in where the "special interests" are likely to figure.

Every citizen of Lima wants to see Main-st paved as quickly as possible. Everyone is tired of the disreputable appearance of the thoroughfare. It is the biggest "black eye" the city has and it should be eliminated. We believe our city officials are sufficiently familiar with this kind of work to safeguard the interests of the public if they give their full attention to the matter.

Their slogan should be, "Pave Main-st and pave it at the lowest possible cost to last the longest time."

Kites

Another kite contest for Lima looks like passed into history. It had every appearance of surpassing any yet held when the boys and their parents, friends and admirers gathered at Faurot Park yesterday. It was a wonderful array of young Americans and they displayed remarkable skill and sportsmanship in the handling of their various entries in the contest.

The Kivans club instituted something worth while when it started the kite contest. It is a sport to which every real boy is drawn as if by a magnet, a sport that gets him out in the open where only exists the real recreation and resulting health.

We are glad that Lima boys are taking an increased interest in the kite contest. We are happy to see boys at play for the boys who play best some day will be the men who work best and who succeed best. They are the hope of the future and should be encouraged at every turn.

This city is handicapped in the matter of outdoor facilities for the growing boys. There is no public bathing beach and our park accommodations are limited. These affect the girls as much as the boys and are matters that should be given attention. While we are building for the future, it would be well for us to build something that will make for better and healthier boys and girls.

Drowsy?

An old-time "shell game man," who used to follow the circuses and stuff his pockets with shekels of the yokels who thought they could guess which shell the little pea was under, says:

"I worked on the theory that nine people out of ten are never wide awake. They go around in a sort of a trance. Being drowsy, they are constantly off their guard. It takes a powerful emotional stimulant to rouse them—a loud shout, shrill auto horn or a spectacular appeal to the eye or to the primitive emotions."

Anyone who drives a car in Lima and notices absent-minded jay-walkers crossing the street without watching for danger will agree with the theory that many people are in a trance state.

Another favorite form of trance is plodding along the wrong side of the walk, especially in a crowd. These peculiar specimens are so "dopey" that they do not even follow the line of least resistance. Instead, on the wrong side, they fight their way attorneyously into the oncoming stream of pedestrians.

Then there's the man who walks into an elevator ahead of a crowd and, instead of moving to the rear, stands close to the front, blocking most of the entrance.

Everyone has noticed that on some days he feels more wide awake and active than on others. One day he rises alert and keen as a razor, next day yawning, drowsy, thick-headed.

The "all in" sleepy feeling is usually caused by toxins—poisons that have accumulated in the body as a result of improper diet, lack of necessary exercise or insufficient sleep. Any of these three is as poisonous as over-indulgence in stimulants.

These poisons, fortunately, "chloroform" the victim into a condition where he "can't keep his eyes open." Once asleep, nature begins throwing off the toxins and restoring his vitality and alertness.

Undoubtedly there are people who rarely, if ever, have a really wide-awake day. Their bodies are either so full of poisons or naturally function so languidly that they go about in a trance.

You seldom find a keen, alert, wide-awake man who is an out-and-out failure. His eager ambition may land him into disaster now and then, the same as running too fast, but in the long run he wins out.

And most failures—with, of course, exceptions—are the victims of not being wide awake.

Success, therefore, is largely a matter of good health of the body and mind. Sensible food, outdoor exercise, fresh air, plenty of sleep—these are more than half the battle.

Vote

Voters of Allen-co should go to the polls Tuesday and vote in the presidential primary. Especially is this true of those of the Democratic faith for a native son of the Buckeye State is a candidate for the nomination on this ticket—James M. Cox. State pride should prompt every Democrat to get out and vote for "Jimmie" Cox.

Democrats should exercise care in marking their ballots. They should vote the preferential ballot for Cox and they should vote for his eight delegates at large as well as district delegates. They should familiarize themselves with the names of the Cox delegates at large for it is there that the contest exists so far as this district is concerned. There is no opposition to the Cox delegates from the Fourth congressional district.

Cox should have a solid delegation at the New York convention. McAdoo is entered in the primary, disregarding the rights of a "native son." It is for this reason that the Democratic voters should vote solidly for Cox. Without going into the merits of the McAdoo candidacy, it was most unsportsman-like for him to invade Ohio, particularly since Cox really should have the honor because of his willingness to bear the banner in 1920 when there was not a single chance for a Democrat.

We recommend that Allen-co Democrats contribute their support in giving Cox a solid delegation to the convention.

Gambling

The man who plays the stock market with a few hundred dollars, his savings, has only an extremely faint chance of not losing it, let alone pyramid it into a fortune. So says Cromwell, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

"Practically a sure loser" is how he describes the man with limited funds playing the market on margin.

"This wisdom is as old as the market." Trouble is, a new crop of suckers is constantly growing up.

Now that spring is here we are all seeing better days.

The light brigade charged like thunder, and so do the gasoline men.

The difference between gloves and bathing trunks is it takes two gloves to make a pair.

SHADES OF RELIEF

BY HAL COCHRAN

There's many a feller who goes to the cellar and eyes it with pleasure these days. He knows, in a minute, that certain things in it are only there now in a haze.

A nail on the wall holds a shovel and all that this shovel's expected to do is hang in its place until once more the trace of winter approaches anew.

This shovel has worked and it never has shirked as it gently scooped coal off the floor. It's black in the face but it hangs in its place 'cause the coal isn't scooped any more.

And near where some trash is a bin that held ashes is empty, and looks spick and span. There's barely a trace of what filled up the space that's been cleaned thru the efforts of man.

The old furnace door does not creak any more and the heating pipes uselessly yawn. And thus winter grief turns to wondrous relief when you know that the coal days are gone.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

BY OH. OH. JACKENHEIM.
NEW YORK.—(A Page from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter)—

Very late up, with full intent to take life hard. Clang of a fire wagon. They average a "run" every three minutes. Out and up Broadway. A two percenter immigrator from Skelly waves us back with a red flag. Bolshevik? No. There goes an explosion, for the new building on the site of the Knickerbocker. Where Old King Cole reigned a quarter of a century in the Great Bar.

Lunched with Dee and Miss Douglass. Years ago a $5-a-week proof reader on The Lima News. When Jawn W. Beall was managing editor. Sabinsky, Mack Alischul's Broadway tailor. Albeit, he raised the price on me to $125. So, there was no sale.

In the evening, dined at The Friar Monastery on 48th-st. A guest of William Randolph Hearst and 498 others round about. The eat, started with crab meat cocktail, a la Pinchot, soup McAdoo, filet mignon, Mellon pian, and Fall encumbers. Roast Royal Squab a la Roxy was the piece de resistance, with Jelly Denby and Potatoes, Doherty. The sweets a biscuit, Tortoni. And then Teapot foam, and cafe noir.

For the Olio, came the greatest galaxy of stars ever seen in a single evening. Opening with an original one-act play by Jack Lait, in which Grace Valentine starred as a modern woman with three husbands. One for Love, one to make the Money, and one, to do the Work. All union. And working in eight hour shifts as husbands.

Then came no other than Paul Whiteman and his famous band; Mme. Takima Miura, soprano of the San Carlo Opera Company; Miss Ida May Chadwick from Paradise Alley; Frank Tinney from the Music Box; Hal Skelly and Louise Groodt in "Whose Baby are you?" Mr. Skelly once again with Kitty Kelly and the chorus from Mary Jane McNamee in "Flannel Petticoats"; Julian Eltinge, Fanny Brice, the English Ballet of the Ziegfeld Folies; Messrs. George M. Cohen and Eddie Cantor and Kyra assisted by Bob Nelson and the ukulele girls from "Artists and Models."

Also Florence Moore and the Music Box girls in "Going Up the Scale;" Bob Nelson, of "Artists and Models;" Beth Berry from Kid Boots; W. C. Fields from "Poppy"; Hilda Ferguson from the Folies; the Misses Little and Lawrence and Mr. Keys from Charlotte's Revue; Borro from "Rendezvous"; Nora Bayes, from Keith's Palace; Phil Baker, from the Music Box; Arthur West, from Paradise Alley and the Silver Slipper. All the foregoing by courtesy of Meets Shubert, Ziegfeld, Carl Carlton, Sam H. Harris, B. F. Keith, Gil Boag, Chariot and the Selwyns and Arthur Hammerstein.

So very early in the morning, back to the Beany and into bed.

JUNGER PANG

I don't know exactly what a pang is—my colleague and consultant, Dr. N. Webster, seems a little vague about pangs—but I ought to know what people mean when they tell of the pangs of hunger, for I have had these pangs described to me in eloquent words and several languages, and as a general rule, or so it seems to me, at any rate, the very people who show no evidence of having endured hunger—on the contrary!—are the most eloquent in describing these pangs. I have tried to point out that overeating involves a kind of intoxication, and when one addicted to such intoxication misses a meal, accidentally or intentionally, he is likely to suffer symptoms of deprivation which are akin to the suffering of the narcotic addict when suddenly cut off from his customary dose of drug or alcohol. In the human these symptoms are out of all proportion, and no doubt they are largely psychical rather physical in origin, just as are the sufferings of persons who are starving thru disaster or want of a good deal more severe than the symptoms of persons who are voluntarily undergoing prolonged fasts:

Boldyreff, formerly an assistant to the great physiologist Pavlov and now head of the Pavlov Institute at Battle Creek sanitarium, has shown that the fasting stomach contracts and remains contracted until food enters it, and superimposed on this constant, or, as physiologists say, "tonic" contraction, are periodic or rhythmic contractions, which gradually increase in force and frequency.

MYSTERIES

Oh, there's much to think about—So much to try to figure out, So many mysteries profound, That everywhere we look around It seems in sky, on sea or land, Are things we do not understand.

With all our wisdom, still we lie And gaze into the open sky And wonder at the stars which race Across that boundless sea of space, And who conceived so vast a plan? What vast imagination planned The countless insects of the land?

A robin sings. His note is heard—Who knows the secrets of bird? And who can tell us how or why God sent to earth the butterfly, Or tell what marvelous mind conceived The first frail web a spider weaved?

How far our little dreams may run! With questioning we're never done. No moment of the day but brings Us face to face with wondrous things, All mysteries which have baffled man Since the far day when life began.

COUNTY TO PAVE CITY STREETS

Commissioners Act on Kirby-Pine-sts Petitions

Paving of St. John's Bay from Kirby-st was practically assured Saturday when county commissioners acted favorably on a petition presented by property owners.

Commissioners agreed to appropriate funds from the August settlement for the purpose.

In return property owners are to meet with Prosecuting Attorney Lipincott and City Solicitor Landis to work out plans for paving a six foot strip on each side of the street.

The county can only pave 18 feet while owners along the way want a 30 foot pavement.

MINISTER BACKS CURTISES

Testifies in Defense of Accused Canton Officials

"BRIE ATTEMPTS COMMON

Never Knew of Any Accepted, However, Ex-Policeman Says

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Altercations between opposing counsel and witnesses in the hearing before Governor Donahay of charges of lax law enforcement against Major C. C. Curtis, of Canton, and his brother, Safety Director E. E. Curtis, caused the governor to warn counsel late Saturday that the hearing must proceed in an orderly manner.

The first tilt between attorneys came when A. L. France, a Rumanian, formerly of Canton, but now a resident of Akron, was testifying as to the character of witnesses who have appeared before the governor. J. L. Hilton, an attorney for the prosecution, and Thomas F. Turner, counsel for the defense, engaged in an altercation when the name of Jim "Jumbo" Crowley, who has been named several times during the hearing as a leader in Canton's underworld, was mentioned. Governor Donahay reprimanded counsel and ordered the hearing to proceed.

Harry M. Kimble, a minister and former councilman, came to the defense of the Curtises when he said that when Mayor Curtis first ran for office in 1921, he was elected by a scant 300 majority and that in the race in 1923 he won by a majority of 3,500. "The significant part of it is," the minister said, "that the mayor lost strength in the bootleg wards and multiplied in the best sections of the city."

With Kimble's testimony, the hearing was adjourned until Monday.

Another argument occurred when Councilman Art Drukenbord of Canton, admitted a friend of the mayor and safety director, resented questions of James I. Amerman, another of the prosecutors. "We've had investigations enough," Councilman Drukenbord shouted, "and the people resent such stuff."

PAID FOR PROTECTION

During the course of France's testimony he admitted being a bootlegger and said he had paid for protection.

It was fined with Benny Clark," the witness said, "but a little later I got a telephone call from some one who told me to get rid of my stuff, that Benny was going to double cross me."

Howard Davis, former a member of the Canton vice squad, said it was "common occurrence" for bootleggers or others to attempt bribery of officers. He said he knew of no officer who ever accepted a bribe.

Norman Lloyd, night patrolman said he had been offered bribes several times and that the impression was in the minds of the foreigners of Canton that the Canton police could be bought. C. I. Edwards and Cleve Bennett, two patrolmen, testified the same.

William Grether, motorcycle officer, said he had heard of a factional fight between Chief of Police Leopold and Safety Director Curtis and that the work of the police department had been hampered by such rumors. He said he belonged to neither faction and that the reputations of all for truth and veracity were good. J. F. Grove, policeman, gave like testimony.

Safety Director Curtis attempted to have Grether name to Governor Donahay the members of the so-called Leopold and Curtis factions. Counsel for prosecution objected and the governor sustained the objection.

A Mr. Hudson, a traveling salesman, said conditions in Canton were much better than two years ago.

LIMA LAUNCHES ANNUAL CLEANUP DRIVE

"CITY BEAUTIFUL" AIMS TOWARD CLEAN STREETS AND DIRT ELIMINATION

Community Drive Urged for Destruction of Winter Rubbish Accumulation, Death of Grime and Fire Hazard Prevention

It costs more to be dirty than to keep clean. Consider the toll of disease, fire and depreciation thru filth, disorder and neglect. Dust and grime are said to be responsible for more than 50 per cent of the wear and tear on clothes and buildings.

Lima opened a big cleanup drive Sunday and will war against filth thru the week. Special attention centers on destruction of the winter's accumulation of rubbish and elimination of fire hazards.

"Make the community as clean as the cleanest home," is the slogan adopted in the "scat dirt and filth" drive to make Lima a city beautiful and a healthy place in which to live.

Dust and grime are common factors and enemies to health and it is the desire that the community band together in a common cause to drive the enemy from the city that the cleanup drive is started in this city.

No one home owner can even think of cleaning up the entire community but when every home owner assures his assistance and exerts his efforts to make his property cleaner than that of his neighbor, then the drive is a success.

DUST SPREADS DISEASE

Every housewife realizes that dirt and grime is a menace. Dirty streets mean dirty homes, and dirty homes mean poor health.

Dust blows into homes. It soils lace curtains, collects in carpets, spots the wall paper and entails a financial loss to property owners. Piles of rubbish in yards and unkempt lawns and dirty houses depreciate real estate.

Cleanup week tends toward general improvement in every community and not only in Lima is the movement restored but in every city in Ohio and in 7,000 cities of the national. The splendid community spirit which has been developed in these 7,000 cities and towns has practically remade many communities. Streets are repainted, parks are beautified, ramshackle fire traps are razed. Millions of homes and public buildings have been repaired, repainted and restored to beauty and usefulness.

These are some of the fruits of community co-operation. The complete history of the National Clean Up and Paint Up campaign will never be written, but it is sufficient to say that it is the greatest cooperative movement for community wel-

THOUSANDS VIEW BODY OF CHARLES F. MURPHY

NEW YORK—A steady stream of mourners, including political associates and women and children he had befriended and aided, Saturday filed past the bier of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany chieftain who died Friday in the parlor of the Murphy home on East 17th-st.

Mrs. Murphy, suffering from nervous collapse, lay shed on the second floor of the house, attended by two nurses. Dr. Herrity, family physician, who attended the dying chieftain, said however, her condition was not serious. Policemen kept the line of visitors moving. Automobile traffic was regulated within a radius of several blocks.

Secretary Daniel F. Ryan, of Tammany Hall, announced that the funeral procession would leave the Murphy home at 10 a. m., Monday and proceed up Fifth avenue to St. Patrick's cathedral.

J. R. Rickoff, N. Main-st., who has been seriously ill from pneumonia, is recovering at Lima City hospital and expects to be able to leave the hospital next week. Rickoff is a member of the board of trustees of Lima City hospital.

SEVENTEEN NUMBERS ON LIMA CHAUTAUQUA BILL

The Lima Chautauqua association will present 17 numbers, including two plays, a concert and an array of lectures, in a program which is to be offered in Lima from Aug. 11 to Aug. 17 inclusive.

The DiGiorgio Orchestra of Minneapolis, will launch its 1924 program, and another unusual feature will be the bee lecture by E. R. Root, in which he handles a swarm of 10,000 bees on the chautauqua platform.

DR. BRIGG SCOTT YOUNG
Dr. Brigg Scott Young, 56, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Ada, who at one time held the office of supreme chancellor of Knights of Pythias of the World, died at Washington after an illness which lasted two days. At the time of his death Dr. Young was an assistant director of the veteran's bureau. The body will be taken to Ada for burial.

The quartette of First Congregational church will sing at the vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4. Miss Scott, violinist, Ruth Jones and Ladella Welty will assist.

LOVE'S DREAM IS SHATTERED

Wife Tells of Being Struck by Husband at Public Dance

COURT GRINDS OUT GRIST

Three Divorces Are Granted and Other Cases Are Heard

Marital woes of Mrs. Hazel Morton, 18, 438 N. Pierce-st., whose golden love dream with Willie Morton, dance hall shark, turned to dross before the honeymoon waned, was heard in common pleas court Saturday.

She won a decree on testimony showing that Morton struck her in a public dance hall when he fancied she was seeking to interfere with his attentions to other girls.

The divorce was one of three handed down by Judge Fred C. Becker during the morning. He also heard testimony in two other cases in which temporary alimony was granted to two wives.

Mrs. Morton, formerly Hazel Sherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sherer, 438 N. Pierce-st., was married to Morton one year ago, she told the court.

The young couple separated nine times during the few months they lived together. Witnesses told of seeing Morton hit his wife at a dance. The wife named a girl called Mary Rhodes as one of several women to whom her mate paid court.

Judge Becker before granting the decree asked the plaintiff if she was getting a divorce to remarry. She answered in the negative.

ALIMONY GIVEN

Mrs. Little Taylor, 745 Michael-av., was allowed $10 a week temporary alimony, and ordered to resume living in the home, in a hearing in a suit against Cleveland Taylor, brakeman of Findlay.

Taylor is at liberty on bond in connection with alleged disappearance of railroad property. The wife has given custody of her two children. She charges Taylor with hitting her and threatening violence.

Van R. Neely won a decree from Mrs. Myrtle Neely, whom he married in Canada in 1912. He told the court she failed to keep house and provide for his comfort. The defendant is said to be employed as a bookkeeper.

Suit for divorce by Mrs. Dortha Vorhees, laundress, 545 S. Main-st., was continued by the court for purpose of hearing further evidence regarding Franklin B. Vorhees' ability to support her. Vorhees according to his wife possesses a violent temper. He hurled knives, cans and other objects at her when in a huff, she declared.

Mrs. Runa Glover, saleslady, was divorced from Russell Glover, waiter, Dayton, she told the court he struck her, and stayed out all night. The two were married in 1916. They were parted on several occasions.

PAINTING is ECONOMY THROUGH PRESERVATION. Too many people today consider Paint only from a decorative standpoint. While Paint is a decorative medium—ITS FIRST PURPOSE, nevertheless, IS PRESERVATION AND PROTECTION.

Unless properly painted the wooden parts of a building soon absorb moisture and swell. The joints open and disintegration is rapid. The metal roof, gutters and railings soon rust and in a remarkably short time are past repair. Painting as a preservative against the elements is absolutely necessary.

JOHNSTON'S THRIFT PAINT

Made from Lead and Zinc and the necessary colors to produce the different shades, plus a sufficient quantity of inert materials, combined with pure linseed oil and dryers to insure long-wearing, satisfying results.

The thrifty features of THRIFT Paint are based fundamentally upon the fact that certain basic raw materials are necessary in paint (and these are in THRIFT Paint) to give the maximum covering capacity and necessary working and wearing qualities.

The soft sandstone exterior of the White House has been preserved these many years with paint. It was found necessary, as the stone was rapidly disintegrating. Cement structures absorb moisture and in damp weather present a blotched appearance, the surface becoming dark. If painted, the cement becomes moisture-proof and the structure remains clean and attractive.

PLAYS REHEARSED FOR FESTIVAL

South High Students to Present Sketches on May 9

GIRLS' WELFARE ELECTS

Auditorium Ready for Use About First of September

The May Festival to be given May 9, by the different South High school clubs, is holding more interest at present than any other activity.

The Ye Merrie Players will present two plays, "The Gray Parrot" and "The Trysting Place," as their contribution to the festival. Casts have been chosen and rehearsals are being held regularly. The cast for "The Gray Parrot" includes Calvin Early, Leroy Smith, Eugene Kohler, Kenneth Geiger, Gertrude Ernest.

and Elizabeth Karthauser. "The Trysting Place" cast is Carl Benson, Frances Deets, Lillian Gruenbaum, Chester Biddle, Randolph Bradford and Neva Leasure. The stage committee is comprised of Helen Miller, Howard Robinson, Lydia Palmer and Samuel Griffin. Miss Meredith, Miss Marvin and Miss Roess are supervising the festival.

The Science club has several good topics for discussion next week. "Modern Version of An Old Art" will be reported by Ned Jennings; "Handling 2000 Tons of Mail a Day," by Franklin Gilroy; "Improved Vacuum Tube Circuits for Short Wave Communications," by Leo Andrews, and "Mahogany, King of the Jungle," by Lorain Stewart. John Shope is chairman of the program committee. Election of officers for the coming year will also take place.

The Seventh Grade Dramatic society will feature with a mock trial next Tuesday. Walter Oberdier will act as judge. Marguerite Thole and Helen Edgar will take the parts of the lawyers and the jury will be comprised of Elizabeth Bowers, Arnold Fisher, Katherine Anson and Walter Davis. Earl Kizer, who is under trial will be tried for wasting time during school hours.

"A Man From Brandon," a farce in one act, will be dramatized by the Tirrione society May 9, at the festival. The cast includes George Mowry, Howard Pfund, Russell Statler, Mary Miller, Virginia Obenour, Irma Johnson and Sarah Fenwick.

The new auditorium will be complete and ready for use by September 1, according to contractors on the job. The seating capacity will be 1500. A cafeteria, library and several class rooms will complete the building extension yet unfinished.

The faculty defeated the Sophomores 9 to 6 in a snappy five-inning game last Thursday. Roudabush and Roberson starred for the teaching staff.

A number of reports will be given at the next meeting of the Alert Citizens club. The topic in general centers around the modern progress in science. These reports will be given: "South Georgia An Outpost of the Antarctic," Carl Vogelsanz; "The Crusade to Save Clipped Children," Laura McKinney; "Country Depopulation and Electric Service," Lucille Atkinson; "How Fast Shall We Travel," Imogene Weagly; "A Radio Controlled Watch," Donald Brown, and "Moving Pictures," Robert Heitzman.

The Astronomy club will continue interesting discussions on the stars. This week's reports are: "Color and Location of Stars," by Irma Johnson; "First Magnitude Stars," by Erma Shepherd and "Variable and Double Stars" by Horne Middlemeyer. Mr. C. C. Barnes has offered the use of his telescope to the club so that they may further their investigations of the stars at the evening meetings. Members are also writing stories on imaginary trips to different stars.

Election of officers for the coming year took place at the last meeting of the Girls' Welfare. Those elected to hold office during 1924-25 are: President, Helen Kaliber; junior vice president, Odette Craig; sophomore vice president, Ethel Harbaugh; freshman vice president, Mary Freeland; secretary, Lillian Gruenbaum; treasurer, Sarah Fenwick and reporter, Edith Byerly. As a summary to this year's work $25 was given to the Mizpah Mission, $70 to the Loan Scholarship Fund, $50 to the Library Fund and $70 to the Playground Fund.

"Resolved, That all immigration to the U. S. should be stopped," will be debated at the coming meeting of the Sophomore Literary Society. John Crane, Howard Pfund and Ora Buckmaster will argue on the affirmative while Lyda Palmer, Helen Miller and Florence Durnbaugh will uphold the arguments on the negative.

STRONG, FAST CLUB REPRESENTS LIMA IN NEW LEAGUE

HALLORAN SET ON WINNING 1924 PENNANT

Optimistic Over Team He Has Gotten Together

With the formal opening of the Ohio-Indiana league scheduled for next Sunday afternoon, May 4, at Murphy's grounds, Manager Bernie Halloran has secured signed contracts from practically every player with whom he negotiated during winter months.

Fifteen players have affixed their names to Lima contracts so far and additional players added throughout the year will add strength to the team.

The latest star to be gathered into the fold is "Chick" Wise, versatile shortstop and one of the most reliable infielders seen in recent years.

Services of Wise were in demand by several clubs and Manager Halloran was compelled to make attractive overtures to him to secure his consent to play as a member of the local club.

Saturday afternoon Halloran received a letter from Wise in which he stated he liked to play baseball in this city and would be on hand for the opening game. His contract was received shortly after arrival of the letter. Wise is working out daily at his home in Troy and promises to be in good condition when he reports for duty.

That Lima will have a strong playing infield is indicated in the lineup that Manager Halloran will present against Angola at the opening game.

HERRIN GOOD CATCHER

Pat Herrin, considered the best professional baseball catcher in Ohio outside of major league ball, will handle the back stopping duties, plugging position that the local management has found weak in past years. Herrin's home is in Dayton and he will come to Lima for every Sunday game.

With "Big" Bill Sykes at first base Lima has tower of strength both at bat and defensively. Sykes established an enviable record with Bloomfield last year in league baseball and from past performances in Lima he has the good will of every fan who claims his presence on the team will make Lima a strong contender for the league pennant.

Sykes is an unusually good fielding first baseman; is a good target for other fielders; a heady player and a fence buster with a long string of home runs to his credit.

SECOND STILL OPEN

The second base position is not clinched and Manager Halloran declined to state definitely who will start the opener at that position. He has several candidates of promise and is negotiating with a former big leaguer to come here.

"Chick" Wise will be at shortstop with "Jack" Malloy and Thibert available for third base. In the outfield Costello will probably be seen in the middle garden and Harold Fisher in right field, alternating on mound duty.

The left field position is vacant with Halloran holding hopes that "Shotgun" Dodd can be secured or the other Texas leaguer gathered into the fold to add hitting strength to the club, which at present appears a little weak at the bat with Herrin and Sykes as the only heavy clubbers and Wise and Malloy as dependable hitters in a pinch.

Halloran is optimistic over the team that he has gathered together, claiming it is stronger than any nine ever signed up for the opening game here in recent years. In Eli Main, for Virginia league pitcher, he pins his hopes for a victory over Angola in next Sunday's game. Main was one of the leading hurlers in the Virginia league last summer and since the break of cold weather he has been working out every day.

MAIN IN GOOD SHAPE

In a letter received here Thursday afternoon from the local management from Main, he stated, "I am in good shape and you can depend on me for your opening game."

Fish is also available for mound duty at any time. He is a school athlete and is always in condition. Fish is a favorite with fans and announcement that he will play under Lima colors was received here with enthusiasm by all who remember the shutout ball he pitched against Delphos last year and his victory over the strong General Tire team of Akron.

Don Rohe, "the boy wonder," the third member of Lima's pitching force, completes the team with possibilities that new players may be secured from time to time as 12-player limit has been set by President Harry Bradbury.

Repairs at Murphy's grounds are progressing rapidly and the sodded infield will be completed by Monday afternoon along with the completion of the new third base line bleachers. Lima will have the one-grass infield in the league, a fact alone which secures fast baseball in this city.

While no definite arrangements have been made it is understood that an opening celebration will be held at Murphy's park next Sunday with Mayor Earl Moyer officiating and other city officials on hand to welcome the opening of the 1924 season.

Paddock Gets Another Record

DRAKE STADIUM, DES MOINES, Iowa — (Associated Press) — A world's record, a national interscholastic mark for the quarter mile relay, hung up fourteen years ago by covering the distance in 45.6-10. The former record of .45.8-10 was held in the University High school team of Chicago in 1916.

The speedy Cedar Rapids, Iowa, quartet, smashed the national interscholastic mark for the quarter mile relay, hung up fourteen years ago by covering the distance in 45.6-10.

The former record of .45.8-10 was held in the University High school team of Chicago in 1916.

The Drake records to fall were in the pole vault, two-mile college relay, broad jump and shot put. Furman of the Kansas State Teachers' college, headed the shot 43 feet 7.8 inches, while Hubbard of Michigan leaped 24 feet 2.34 inches in the broad jump. Monmouth college hung up a record of 8' 10 3-10 for the two-mile college relay. McKown of the Kansas State Teachers' college set a record of 13 feet for the pole vault.

GROSS FIGHTS HAHN AT FORT WAYNE TUESDAY

Jakie Gross, Lima's stellar lightweight, will enter on his summer campaign next Tuesday night when he meets one of the best men in the game in Ray Hahn of Indianapolis at Ft. Wayne. The local boxer declares that he is in the best condition of his career and is determined to win by a knockout and regain his position in the front ranks of the junior lightweight and lightweight divisions.

Three other Lima boys will appear on George Beimer's Ft. Wayne card. Jackie Palmer, bantamweight, will box Roy Riley, of the Pacific coast, in the ten-round semi-final. This bout is carded as the second part of a double windup. Perry McPherson will box Young Ellwood, six rounds and Paddy Phalen will engage the old reliable Sammy Hess in the two six-round preliminaries. McPherson is a local featherweight of considerable note and Phalen is a local junior welterweight.

While Gross has met some of the best boys in the junior lightweight class the coming battle looms as one of the toughest of his career. Hahn is a fast shifty southpaw and will have some five pounds in weight on the local boy. He recently gave Tommy Bunch a terrific lacing in Ft. Wayne after Bunch had knocked Babe Bremer out in five rounds. He will be an overwhelming favorite over Gross.

Requirements for the state championships at Columbus arrived last week and the Red and Green mentor was anxious to see how his boys would stack up against the state marks. In all except one or two cases time and distance good enough to go to the Columbus meet were made. Blatner, Shrader and Stainier showed the way to the dashmen with good marks in the 100 yards, quarter mile and 220 respectively. Van Horn clipped off the half mile at a fast pace and repeated on the mile.

In the high hurdles King showed the way, while Doan led the low hurdle event. Stanyer, King and Mitchell look good in the weight events while King and McDonald made exceptionally good jumps. The broad jump and pole vaults were not included on the program. Authorities at Libby High Toledo have decided to cancel their May 3 date with Central and it is probable that the Central lads will have no dual meet that day. However Adams and Waite have dates within the next few weeks and should make the local tracksters step.

The interclass meet which was to have been held Saturday afternoon has been postponed and will probably be run off next Saturday.

Will Carry Five Catchers

Miller Huggins intends to carry five catchers this year if it is possible to prune the rest of his players down to permit it. Already Hoffman, who ranks next to Schang, is out of it at least a month with a bad finger.

Left-Handed Trio

With Rice, Goslin, and Fisher in the outfield, Washington presents a trio of left-handed hitters. The latter two are hard hitters while Rice mixes them up.

KITE KONTEST IS BIG SUCCESS

Westminster Lad Chosen as Best All Around Flier

CUP IS WON BY FRANKLIN

Large Crowd Throngs Faurot Park During Kiwanis Event

With weather conditions as favorable as they could possibly have been, and with Faurot park overran from one end to the other by approximately 1,000 onlookers, hundreds of Lima and Allen-co youngsters, with several times as many kites, Saturday afternoon vied for prizes totalling $200 in cash and merchandise.

Judges and officials in charge of the event, known as the third annual Kiwanis Club Kite Kontest, had their hands full from the time the kites went up for the first vent until the last kite had been cut down in the kite battle.

Lloyd Parker, of Westminster, winner of one prize in each of four events, was awarded the grand prize of $20 by the judges, City Manager Longham, Judge Neal R. Poling and Y. M. C. A. Secretary Thomas F. Parman. Parker had the best all-round kite. He was also a runner-up in the prize winning at the contest last year, having walked from home.

Franklin Junior high school received the silver loving cup which is offered by the Kiwanis Club to the school having the largest number of student winners. Six prizes went to students from that school. South High was next in line for the cup with a total of five wins.

FLIES HIGH

Robert Staples, 924 W. Eureka-st, student at the Garfield school, took first prize for the highest flying kite. He received a savings account for flying his kite so high that it took nearly half a mile of string before it reached its limit.

Other winners in this event were Earl Wilson, 532 Prospect-av; Joseph Nance, 525 E. Flanders; Lester Evans, 730 W. Elm.

Oliver Ream, 532 Michael-av, received a coaster wagon for having smallest kite. His entry was but 7-8 of an inch high, but it went right up with the biggest kites on the lot. Other winners are Robert Watts, 925 W. High-st; William C. Adles, 417 S. McCall-st; Max Eisenbach, 213 S. Collett-st.

The strongest pulling kite, belonging to Harry McGuire, of the Garfield school, pulled with a force of 171-2 pounds on a scale held by one of the judges and Harry was presented with a boys' sweater. Other awards were won by Larry Pence, Whittier; Lloyd Parker, Westminster; Stephen Ballet, Orena-av.

ODDEST KITE

The oddest kite was shaped in the form of a brown bug and Philip Tolford, 416 S. McCall-st, received a baseball bat for possessing it.

Lloyd Parker, Westminster; John Jolley, Central, and William C. Adles, Franklin, took other places.

Lloyd Parker, Westminster school, won a suit of clothes for having the best all-round box-kite. Francis Voorhees, of the children's home, Franklin Wheelbarger, Central, and Dale McPherson, Central, also took place.

The largest kite was 10 feet long and five feet high, was owned by Larry Pence, of Whittier school, who got a drum. Edmund Ley, South, Bobb Todd, 518 S. Main St., and George Nichol were other winners.

Carl Eisenbach, 213 S. Collett-st, had the prettiest kite and received a watch. Robert Staples, Garfield, Lloyd Parker, Westminster, and Lawrence Spykes also placed.

Bob Todd won the kite battle. He cut down no less than 7 kites with razor blades which he had fastened along his string, and his entry was still proudly flying high in the air while dozens of vanquished foes were being gathered up within a radius of half a mile by their owners. He is a student of South High school, and for his prowess was awarded a savings account. Robert Staples, Garfield, Edmund Ley, South, and Thomas Crider, Central, also placed.

Blood is Poisoned By a Torpid Liver

Deadly toxins cause diseases of heart, kidneys and create premature old age

All the blood in our bodies passes through the liver every 15 minutes. The liver is the blood's purifier.

Our blood is constantly poisoned by body toxins formed in food waste, and when the liver becomes weak, or torpid, it cannot perform its work of purification and our systems are at once tainted by impure blood. These are the poisons that, if not destroyed by the liver, cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and create premature old age.

Nature gives quick warning of a torpid liver. You have sudden sick headaches, dizzy spells; your stomach is acid from sour bile, your skin turns yellow, blotchy.

Doctors know the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will act directly on the liver. The discovery is purified ox gall.

Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each.

STATE ROAD WORK PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

HIGHWAYS BEING PUT IN SHAPE

County Benefits By Program Now Nearing Completion

ELIDA-ROAD TOP IS ORDERED

Three Jobs To Be Let May 2; Other News About Thorofares

Work on state roads in the country is rapidly going forward and by the middle of the summer most of them will have been completed, Charles Ash, district road engineer, announced Saturday.

This news will be welcomed with joy by Allen-co motorists who will probably use them to a great extent this summer and fall.

L. J. Clymer, Bluffton contractor, is putting on the last course of 4 inch water-bound macadam on a 1 mile stretch of road east of Delphos on the Harding highway. The base courses will be completed within two weeks at the present rate of progress, Ash says.

The top course, which will be of Kentucky rock asphalt material, has been ordered and is expected to be here within ten days. As soon as the weather permits the course will be laid.

Because of the fact that the base coat has already been placed on the road by the county, work has been speeded up considerably as rain or bad weather doesn't interfere with the construction work. The section will be thrown open to the motoring public during the middle of June, if the work is continued at the present rate.

CULVERTS IN

Culverts are being placed and the road grade is being sacrificed on the 6 1/2 mile stretch of road thru Westminister on the Lima-Bellefontaine highway. Drainage tiles required are being placed along the road in order to do away with the ditches. The road must be finished by December 1, according to the contract, but it is likely it will be completed by October 1, Ash says. Walter Souley, Ada, and R. Stone Construction Co., Lima, each hold a contract for half the 6 1/2 mile stretch.

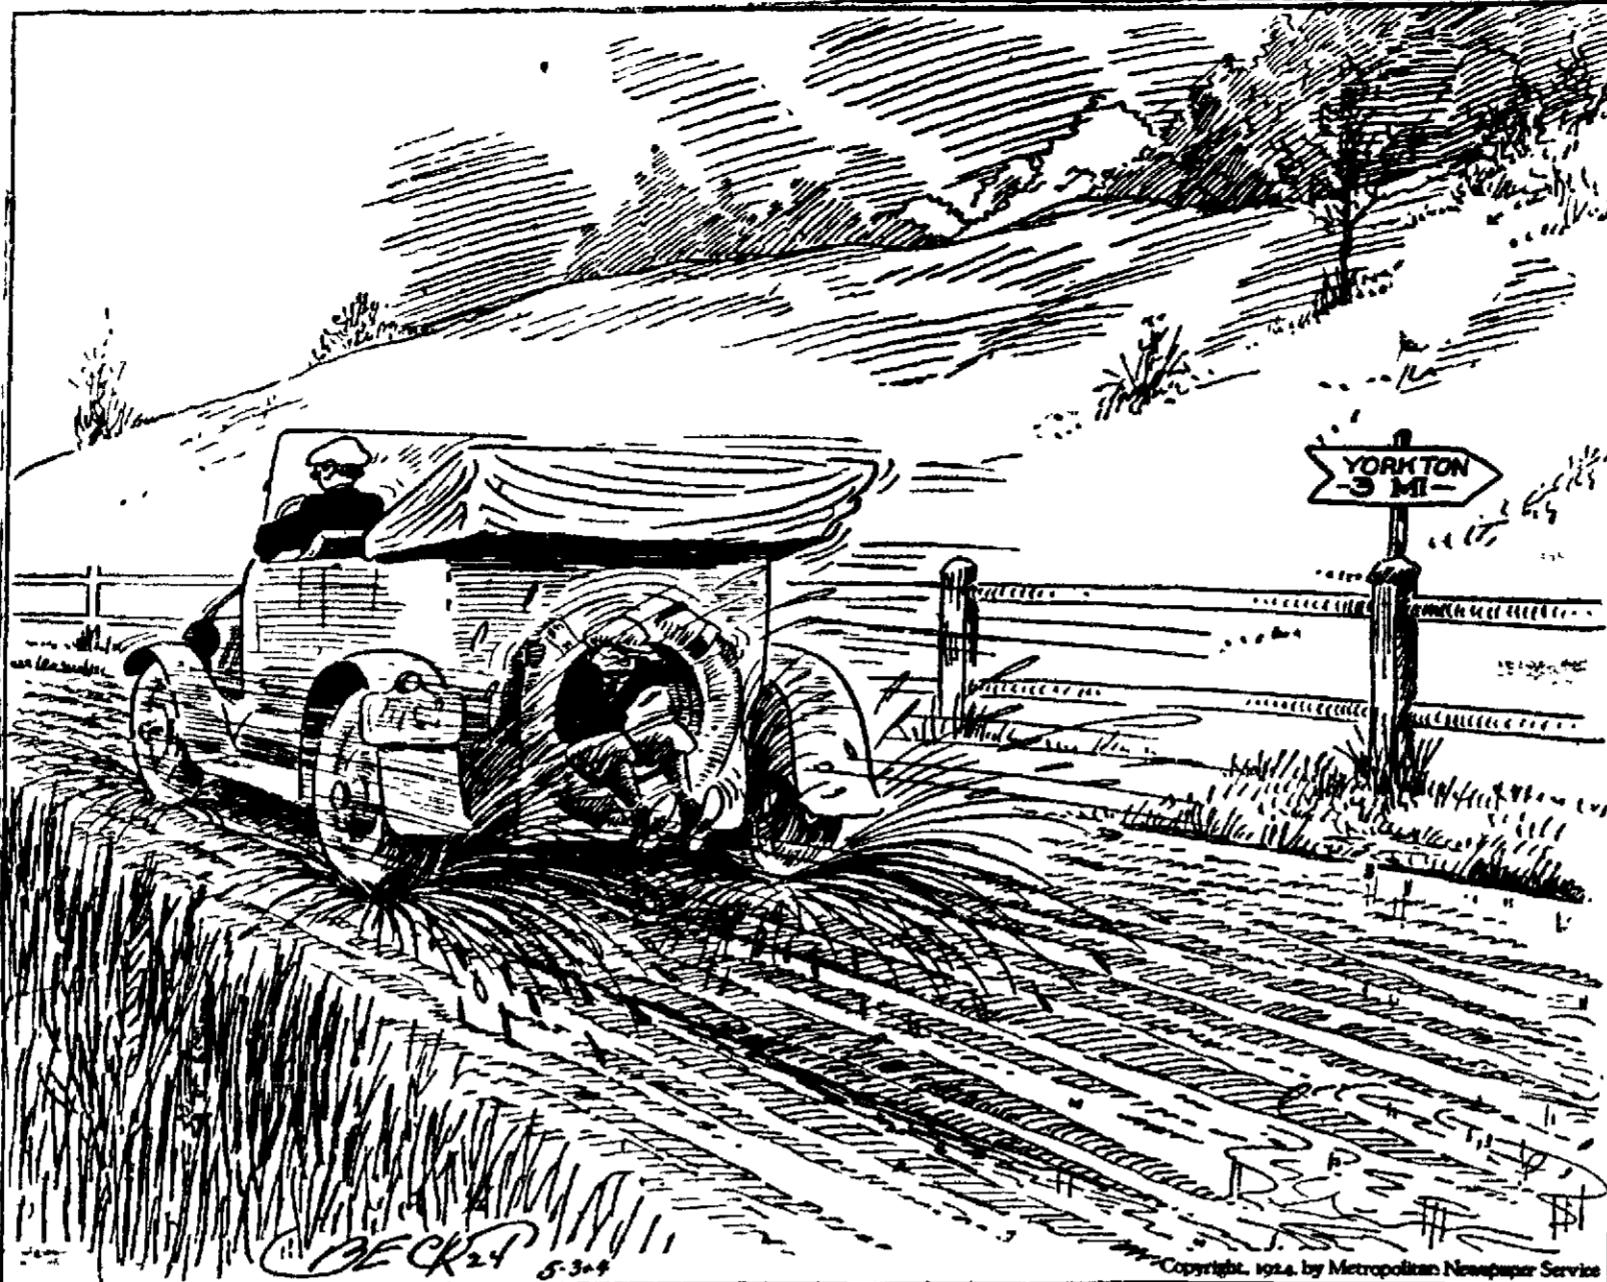

Actual work on mile length of road between Lima and Spencerville immediately out of Lima will not be started until the grade has been thoroly dried out and filled compacted sufficiently to place the road metal upon, says Ash. "Conditions must be right before real work is started. We want to make it a good road because it will be used considerably," Ash asserts. "Once conditions are favorable the work will be finished within a month."

The road was graded last fall, and a considerable fill made on the approaches to the Erie overhead. Scott and Agerter, Lima, are the contractors.

Plans and estimates for a section of road on the Dixie highway near Bluffton have been completed for some time. A project statement has been sent to Washington for approval of the bureau of public roads, and a favorable report is very probable losses totaled $23,000,000.

DOWN THE ROAD—STOLEN FRUITS AREN'T ALWAYS SWEETEST—

as the government has given approval to all sections of the Dixie highway.

OTHER MONEY

Remaining portion of inter-county highway funds allotted to Allen-co will be used in conjunction with the old Allen-co commissioners will give for Allen-co's portion on a small section of road south of Conant on the Lima-Spencerville highway. The amount of inter-county highway funds has not been determined to date as they will be derived from the reduced prices of various roads which were sold under the adverse estimates for bond issues.

Three job will be let on May 2, at Columbus: a 9-quarter-mile stretch of road at Scott's Crossing; two bridges on the Lima-Spencerville road about 2 1/2 miles east of Spencerville, which will be of reinforced concrete built by the maintenance department of the state highway department; and a one-half mile section of road west of Elida, including a bridge at the Ottawa river, over which the road crosses.

USED-CAR TROUBLES

Automobile dealers lost $6,049,000 on used-car deals in the first three months of 1924. This is an improvement as compared to the first quarter of 1923, when the favorable report is very probable losses totaled $23,000,000.

MOTOR HORN WON'T BLOW, FROZEN GREASE IS CAUSE

"A motorist friend told me the other day that his auto horn froze up every time the weather got cold," says a local fan.

"I investigated the trouble and discovered that it lay in the spring attached to the hammer, it being a vibrator type horn.

"This spring, a flat one, was composed of several very thin leaves. Someone had greased them thoroughly with something that congealed in a cold temperature, literally freezing the thin sheets of steel together and forming a solid strip of metal too stiff for the magnets in the horn to move."

"One of my men cleaned off the grease, substituted a compound that would not freeze, and now the horn makes as loud a racket on zero days as it does in warm weather."

CHANGE HOSE
Be sure that the rubber hose at top and bottom of radiator is changed at least once a year. The hot water passing thru it rots the rubber which, loosens up the fabric, so that it gets in the way of the water, cutting down the efficiency of the cooling system. This is a frequent cause of overheating.

The New V-63 simply cannot be compared with previous Cadillacs—splendid as was their performance—

And certainly not with any other automobile, either foreign or American.

The New V-63 is extraordinarily different—must be judged by new standards—higher than have ever before been associated with a motor car.

This difference is in vital phases of performance. It is due chiefly to Cadillac's new harmonized and balanced 90° V-Type eight cylinder engine, and can be realized only by riding in the car.

Many Extras On New Oldsmobile
"De Luxe" Sedan

Luxuries of yesterday are necessities of today, trends in the automobile business prove. More and more the public is demanding cars containing every accessory that has proven its worth. In response to this demand the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Mich., is offering the De Luxe Sedan, the sport model of the closed car field.

Reports from dealers have shown a growing desire on the part of the purchasing public for a closed car as completely equipped as the open car sport models. As this demand grew, the Olds Motor Works decided to save Oldsmobile purchasers a part of the retail price of accessories and all of the cost of installation by placing all the wanted accessories on the car as standard equipment.

The De Luxe Sedan is painted in a beautiful shade of Maroon and is equipped with Tuare steel wheels enameled in black with gold stripe, nickel radiator shell, bar, radiator cap, motometer, hood painted in maroon to match the body, spot light, four running board, steep plates, windshield cleaner, rear vision mirror, front bumper, rear sport bumpers, sport tire carrier, four trunk rails on the back of the car, trunk platform and black enameled steel trunk.

Overland Given
Heavy Tests On Colorado Roads

Selection of an Overland Spad for the preliminary work on the new Mt. Evans auto highway is a marked tribute to the power and stamina of the Overland motor paid by the State Department of Colorado. The highway, when completed, will have the distinction of being the highest automobile roadway in the world, exceeding in altitude that of Pike's Peak by several hundred feet.

The car is now used in survey work which requires operation over almost inaccessible grades, partially constructed roads and even to points which have not yet been touched by a grading crew.

The sale of the Spad was completed only after exhaustive competitive tests with other light cars over some of the roughest roads within the state boundaries. It is the first Overland ever purchased for this work by the Colorado State Highway commissioners, but since its preliminary showing it has been decided that all future replacements for mountain work will be made with Overlands.

Since the first car was put into service on the Mt. Evans highway additional cars have been added to the highway departments at Delta and Raton.

MILLER-KETTMON WILL SELL SELBERLING TIRES

Announcement was made Saturday that the Miller-Kettmon Electric Co., Elm-st., has received the contract to deal locally with Selberling Rubber products.

The Selberling All-Tread tire is a new product on the market. Instead of the usual side wall tires have had in the past, the Selberling tire carries the long bars of its tread design half way down the sides, giving unusual protection and traction as well as rugged beauty.

OFTEN NEGLECTED
No part of a car requires more careful attention in the matter of lubrication than the steering gear, and it usually receives the least amount of oil.

Oakland Merits
Insurance Rate
Reductions Now

Construction of the Oakland has received no finer recommendation than that given by the insurance companies in reducing the insurance rates on the 1924 models. No fewer than four different reductions have been granted.

Regardless of price, there is no car with a lower fire rate, due to the fact that the Oakland is so well constructed from the point of view of fire protection, say Oakland officials.

Again, the Oakland is equipped with an approved transmission lock for which the insurance companies allow a 10 per cent reduction from the theft rate. This equipment in the large cities saves the purchaser $15 to $25 penalty charge which is added to the premium when an open car is not equipped with an improved lock.

The General Exchange Corporation, the insurance division of the General Motors corporation, allows two other reductions. On account of the four-wheel brakes this corporation allows a 10 per cent reduction in collision rates.

That this same corporation considers the four-wheel brakes a safety factor of major importance is not only indicated by the foregoing reduction in collision rates but also by a 5 per cent reduction in property insurance.

These low insurance rates are not based on sentiment—so more than life insurance rates are—but solely upon the fire-proof, theft-proof and property-damage-proof features and construction of the Oakland car.

16,000,000 AUTOS

From 1924 to 1928, American manufacturers produced more than 16,000,000 motor vehicles. Of these 10 per cent were produced in the last seven years, 60 per cent in the last five years, and 16 per cent last year.

You'll Like Its Looks and Praise Its Power

HERE is the reason for the wonderful popularity of this new Cleveland Six model:

It carries the lowest price ever placed on a 5-passenger sedan that has plenty of power, genuine good looks and substantial construction throughout.

It all comes down to a matter of dollars and cents.

Sensible folks cannot be argued into paying more than $1295 for a 5-passenger 6-cylinder sedan—

—when for $1295 they can enjoy the comfort and relaxation of a roomy Fisher body, the power and pep of the finest performing motor in the whole light six field, and the Genuine super-size balloon tires (31 x 5 1/2) optional, $70 extra. Cleveland chassis design permits their use without affecting road, frame, or fender clearance.

Why You Should Own an Automobile

SEVEN LEAGUE BOOTS—(From Minneapolis Tribune)

MAN'S capital in the business of life is his time. His primary use of his capital is to buy space. From the primordial slime to this very hour, his life has been a matter of movement. Man must incessantly move himself and his goods from place to place. He must buy space with his time. The value of his time is measured in terms of space—miles per hour. His capital stock of time is limited to three score years and ten. With this limited capitalization he must ever bargain for more and more space. He is ever trying to increase the working power of his limited capital.

For ages man bought his space with the horse, whose four feet had a greater purchasing power than his two. He bought space with currents of rivers and with the winds. He bred the horse to go faster and faster, built faster sailing ships, and thus slowly and laboriously added a meager mile to his little store. He discovered steam, and had his first big bargain at the space counter. His stock went soaring. He crowded steam faster and faster, gaining more and more of space, but it was qualified by rigid rails and vast expenditures of preliminary effort. His steam machine was master of the man. Man must still go with the machine on the machine's time. Even with the mile-a-minute locomotive, man's greatest movement was still with the horse at eight miles an hour.

Then came the automobile, and the price of space fell. As fast as steam train, as mobile as the horse, the motor car increased man's capital of time manyfold. Man is master of this machine to use it when and where he will. Man began to move voluntarily with slow feet. He was one of the slowest of the vertebrates. But now he darts about the earth faster than the fastest.

If one be disposed to ponder over the details of life; to go back of the outward, immediate aspect of things, there is much more to an automobile show than an attractive marketing place.

Let any man look down at his two feet that can barely pace a yard at a time and then at these "seven league boots" that step by miles and let him consider how his time has been stretched and his space abridged.

They are all of them, from skimpy flivver to luxurious limousine, the evidence of man's victory over his limited capital of time.

They mark one of his greatest triumphs, the multiplication of his movements.

Which is but another way of saying that the automobile has lengthened his life.

Why You Should Prefer a Chevrolet

THE chief use of an automobile is for transportation of people or goods. Few are willing to pay more for this transportation than is necessary.

The motto of Chevrolet, "For Economical Transportation," is our sole guide in the design and construction both of our passenger and commercial models.

We do not endeavor to produce the cheapest automobile but the most economical, because we are concerned in delivering the utmost per dollar of price in economical transportation.

The selling price of an automobile, while important, is secondary to the cost of transportation throughout its life. This includes the purchase price and all operating and maintenance expenses for an average period of six years.

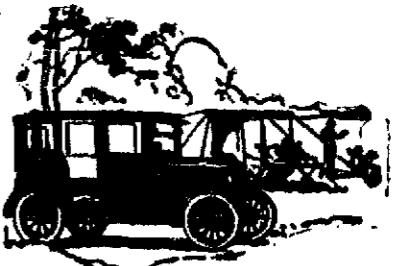

Chevrolet delivers on the average the lowest per year and per mile cost of transportation, therefore it is the "cheapest" in the long run.

Notwithstanding its low purchase price and economy of operation and maintenance, Chevrolet is a quality product, fully equipped and modern in every respect.

It has modern style, fine finish, a high degree of riding comfort and engineering efficiency. It can be easily shown that for economical transportation

"Keep Your Car Clean," Advice Of Dort Expert

"Keep your car clean," says Elisha G. Poisson, newly appointed general sales manager of the Dort Motor Car Co., "because it will pay you in real money to do so."

"Of course you like the paint and nickel and glass to shine when you are driving. It increases your enjoyment to know your automobile looks well on the road. It's the same feeling that comes when you get all dressed up in new hand-made clothes. As the psychologists say, it adds to your psychic income. But it does more than that. It adds to your real, hard-earned, dollar-and-cents income too."

"How? you ask. Because it enables you to get better ready prices for your car when it comes to getting a new one. People don't remember, sometimes, to figure the resale value of their next car but that's exactly what they do. That is why, when we design Dort cars, one of the things we keep in mind is that the front of our models is to build them so that they will have a high resale value. We put into a motor that will remain silent and efficient a chassis that won't develop squeaks, bodies that will be in good taste and comfortable when some other body styles will be obsolete, and paint and finish jobs that with normal attention will stay bright and shiny."

Jewett Hanging Up Records For Efficient Work

Fred Moore and E. R. West arrived in Lima Saturday afternoon with a Jewett car on a non-stop run from San Francisco to New York City. After stopping for a period of ten minutes at the Huber Auto Sales Co., 125 W. Elm-st., local Jewett and Paige dealers, the two continued on their journey east to Canton, where they stopped a few minutes Saturday night.

They have been on the road exactly one week, having started from San Francisco Saturday, April 19. Their intention is not to break a time record, but to demonstrate the reliability and stamina of the Jewett automobile, also its economy from a standpoint of oil consumption and gas mileage.

Starting at San Francisco, the pair went to Oakland, across the Red Ferry, thru Vallejo, Sacramento via Yuba to Reno, Nevada, from Reno to Battle Mountain, Elko, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha and then to Chicago. From Chicago they speeded to Lima Saturday.

The car was checked in and out of the city at the Western Union Telegraph office. In every city the car stops this formality must be gone thru.

Altho the car makes a large number of stops on the trans-continental trip, the engine must be kept running at all times. The hood is sealed on the car, as well as the oil supply pipe, so that no repairs can be made and oil will be added only at stated points.

West, who is service manager of the Paige Company of Northern California, drives the car during the day while Moore drives at night.

After the car reached Canton Saturday night, it continued on to Pittsburgh. From Pittsburgh it will go to Harrisburg and then proceed to New York City.

Cleveland Auto Boasts Many Of Later Features

Production at the Cleveland Automobile Co. factory in Cleveland has increased 20 per cent in the last month. Approximately 50 per cent of the total number of cars being built are closed models. This is due largely to the slight difference which exists between the closed and open models of the Cleveland line.

Skidding in wet weather is eliminated in having the emergency brake on the rear of the transmission such as the design used by the Cleveland Six. The braking action takes place thru the rear axle differential, consequently the braking leverage is equalized.

Balloon tires are now optional equipment at a slight extra cost with all the models of the Cleveland Six. The factory reports that practically 50 per cent of the cars shipped are going out with balloon tire equipment.

The cylinders and combustion chambers of the Cleveland motor are completely machine-honed. Other features of the open models are: genuine, hand-buffed leather, top which affords clear vision from all sides to all passengers in the car and a motor that has practically no vibration.

OLDEST TYLER OF ELKS ORDER DIES AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO—Charles (Sally) Seymour, 86, tyler of Toledo Lodge of Elks for 46 years, and oldest tyler of the order in the nation, died here Saturday night after an extended illness. Death was due to old age.

Seymour, a historical character in Elkhorn, was known to practically every Elk in the country. He attended all the national meetings and was best known for his humor and brevity of speech. He was a confidant of hundreds of the country's foremost citizens, past and present. Seymour was born in New York and was raised in Philadelphia. He served in the Confederate army during the Civil War. He was engaged in railroad promoting in his early life and made and lost two large fortunes.

Europeans Will Use Many Autos Of U. S. Making

Palfreman E. Crowe, sole governing director of Crowe & Co., European shipping and forwarding agents, predicts a substantial increase in the use of American motor cars by European business men.

Crowe stopped in Detroit en route from Toronto to Chicago for the purpose of seeing the factory which produced the Cadillac car which he is using for travel in every part of Europe. He has his head office in Basle, Switzerland, maintains 11 offices in various cities on the continent, and three in England. A large part of his time is spent on the road and he travels wholly by motor car.

European business men are just beginning to realize that motor cars are a commercial necessity rather than a luxury, Crowe states. After his own experience he believes that the dependability, performance and riding comfort of American cars will make them European favorites with those who come to use them for executive travel and for business purposes.

In the Alpine mountains so little provision has been made for the convenience of motor car travel that it is still necessary to carry a whip to drive cattle from the roads. Other parts of Europe, according to his picture, would be an American motorist's paradise, as he states that he drives between towns at a speed of 60 to 100 kilometers (35 to 62 miles) per hour.

Dealers Aiding Chevrolet Make New Sales Mark

C. Earl Dawson, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. has just returned to Detroit headquarters from a two months' trip visiting the various sales zones of the company from New England and the east down to Texas, and as far west as the Pacific Coast. He was accompanied on the western half of the trip by R. H. Grant, assistant to W. S. Knudsen, president of Chevrolet Motor Co., and A. R. Kroh, manager of the retail development division, who was in Lima last week, addressing Chevrolet men from Lima and vicinity at the Argonne hotel.

"One thing that impressed us all most forcibly on this coast-to-coast trip," said Dawson, "is the very marked change in the makeup of the men selling our cars. Increased sales are coming now, because prospective buyers are necessarily more numerous, more ready or more willing to buy than in the past; they are coming because the salesmen are going after them with an intelligence fully equal to their energy."

"The salesman today is showing a very real desire to know everything he can about his product. He wants the 'straight' of it—the what, how, why of it, and we are helping him to get it all. With such a combination as this, can you wonder that we are confident of record sales for 1924?"

"Rick's" Auto Is Making Records For High Sales

Rickenbaker Motor Co. hit the high water mark a few weeks ago with the production and shipping of 92 cars in one day.

Production of this popular car, the rise of which since it was first announced two years and nine months ago, has been phenomenal, is now averaging 80 cars per day and the company expects to reach its peak capacity of 100 cars a day within a few weeks.

This is the limit set by executives, as that which represents the healthiest growth, the popularity of the product would justify a much larger volume.

"We produced 5,000 cars in our first year, doubled that in our second, and this season we will exceed last year's output by 110 to 115 percent," says Captain E. V. Rickenbaker, vice president of the company and director of sales.

"Demand is simply remarkable for this season of the year, and we are wondering how we are going to take care of the demand when the big spring rush sets in."

Local distributors for the Rickenbaker are the Downs-Rickenbaker Sales Co., 771 W. North-st., Thomas Garage.

ANNOUNCING A NEW LIMA HOME FOR THE SEIBERLING TIRES

APPEARANCE

They Add Distinction To Any Car

Good looks, as well as miles, is built into every Seiberling Cord. These rugged sidewalls give each Seiberling Cord the appearance of a real aristocrat. No difference in the make of car, Seiberling Cords will give it true lines of real distinction.

UTILITY

Through Mud Holes Without Chains

Notice those long rugged sidewalls. How often have your tires been ruined prematurely by sidewall failure—Not so with this tire. With Seiberling Cords you pull into the mud hole, through it, and out of it and your sidewalls are not cut and you are not delayed.

Rickenbacker

A • CAR • WORTHY • OF • ITS • NAME

Our Hat Is In The Ring

From many applicants we have been chosen and accorded the sales franchise of Rickenbacker automobiles in and vicinity.

This Rickenbacker franchise is the most coveted, because one of the most desirable in the entire automobile industry.

The Company has become recognized as a leader in engineering, in fine craftsmanship.

The car, embodying as it does, many advanced engineering features, is an outstanding favorite.

We have long been acquainted with the men who comprise the Rickenbacker organization.

None stand higher in the industry.

All are men of long experience in this business and all have been consistently successful.

B. F. Everitt, President and General Manager, is a man of sterling qualities and one of the most highly regarded by every other executive in the industry.

Captain E. V. Rickenbacker, Vice-President and Director of Sales, is too well-known to every American to need further introduction. Suffice to say he is one of the hardest working executives in the entire organization.

H. L. Cunningham, E. R. Evans, Carl Tichenor—are engineers and production experts of the highest standing in the Industry. It was a foregone conclusion that these men would make a first-class automobile and achieve such efficiency in production that it still could be sold at a medium price.

That long acquaintance with this organization resulted in an admiration that in turn created a desire on our part to handle the Rickenbacker car in this territory.

For two years we have watched this Company and this car closely. We have talked with many dealers who sell, service men who know it even more intimately, and with owners.

—and finally, we visited the Rickenbacker factory in Detroit.

There we met personally every member of the organization, and inspected every operation in the making of this chassis and body. We heard nothing but good of this concern and of its car in its own home town.

Detroit, by the way, leads all other cities in ownership of Rickenbacker cars.

Dealers with whom we talked were enthusiastic—service experts and owners were even more so.

In the factory we proved to our entire satisfaction that this is a quality product throughout.

In every respect this Rickenbacker Six conforms to our ideas of what constitutes a good motor car.

Not only is this car beautifully built—workmanship the finest—but in engineering features it is in advance of any other car made in America.

Features that were developed and pioneered by Rickenbacker and which especially appealed to us were: the "Tandem Flywheel," which eliminates all Periods of Vibration; the "Air Cleaner," which renders the motor singularly clear of excessive carbon; the "Double Depth" Frame, side members 8' deep; the fine body construction, finish and rich appointments.

—and finally the 4-Wheel Brakes, which in our own exhaustive and rigid tests proved to be the most perfect in operation we have ever driven. These brakes are amazing in efficiency and smoothness.

In a word, we feel that a signal honor has been conferred on us by our appointment as Rickenbacker Distributors.

DOWNS RICKENBACKER SALES COMPANY
771 West North Street

To Rickenbacker Friends In Lima and Vicinity—

We are pleased to announce that, from several applicants for this franchise and after the most rigid investigation of qualifications, we have appointed

DOWNS RICKENBACKER SALES COMPANY
771 West North Street

Distributor of Rickenbacker Motor Cars in this territory.

It may not be out of place to state here why this valuable territory has been "open" until now.

It was not because of lack of demand for this product, nor lack of interest on the part of distributors and dealers generally.

On the contrary, we have had several applications.

But, those who desired this franchise could not qualify under our Standard—and those who could measure up to Rickenbacker requirements were not, up to this time, available.

We have a code and a standard that applies not only to the making but to the merchandising of this product.

We believe that "No representation is better than mis-representation."

We believe that in the final analysis, satisfied customers constitute the only answer to continued success of any manufacturer or dealer.

Service—first built into the product, and then accorded, with courtesy, dispatch and intelligence to the user—cannot but bring a reward commensurate with that service.

This territory is rich in possibilities—for that very reason we have exercised more than usual caution in awarding it to any distributor.

In Downs Rickenbacker Sales Company we feel we have found the right spirit and have effected an ideal combination.

Downs Rickenbacker Sales Company have been long and favorably known to the executives of Rickenbacker Motor Company.

Their business history has been one of consistency and success. Rickenbacker is a quality product, so cleverly simple in design that it may be finely made and yet sold at a moderate price.

Pride of ownership is one—and perhaps the chief—quality you enjoy in your possession of a Rickenbacker Car.

Downs Rickenbacker Sales Company and his associates are peculiarly qualified to sell "Pride of Ownership."

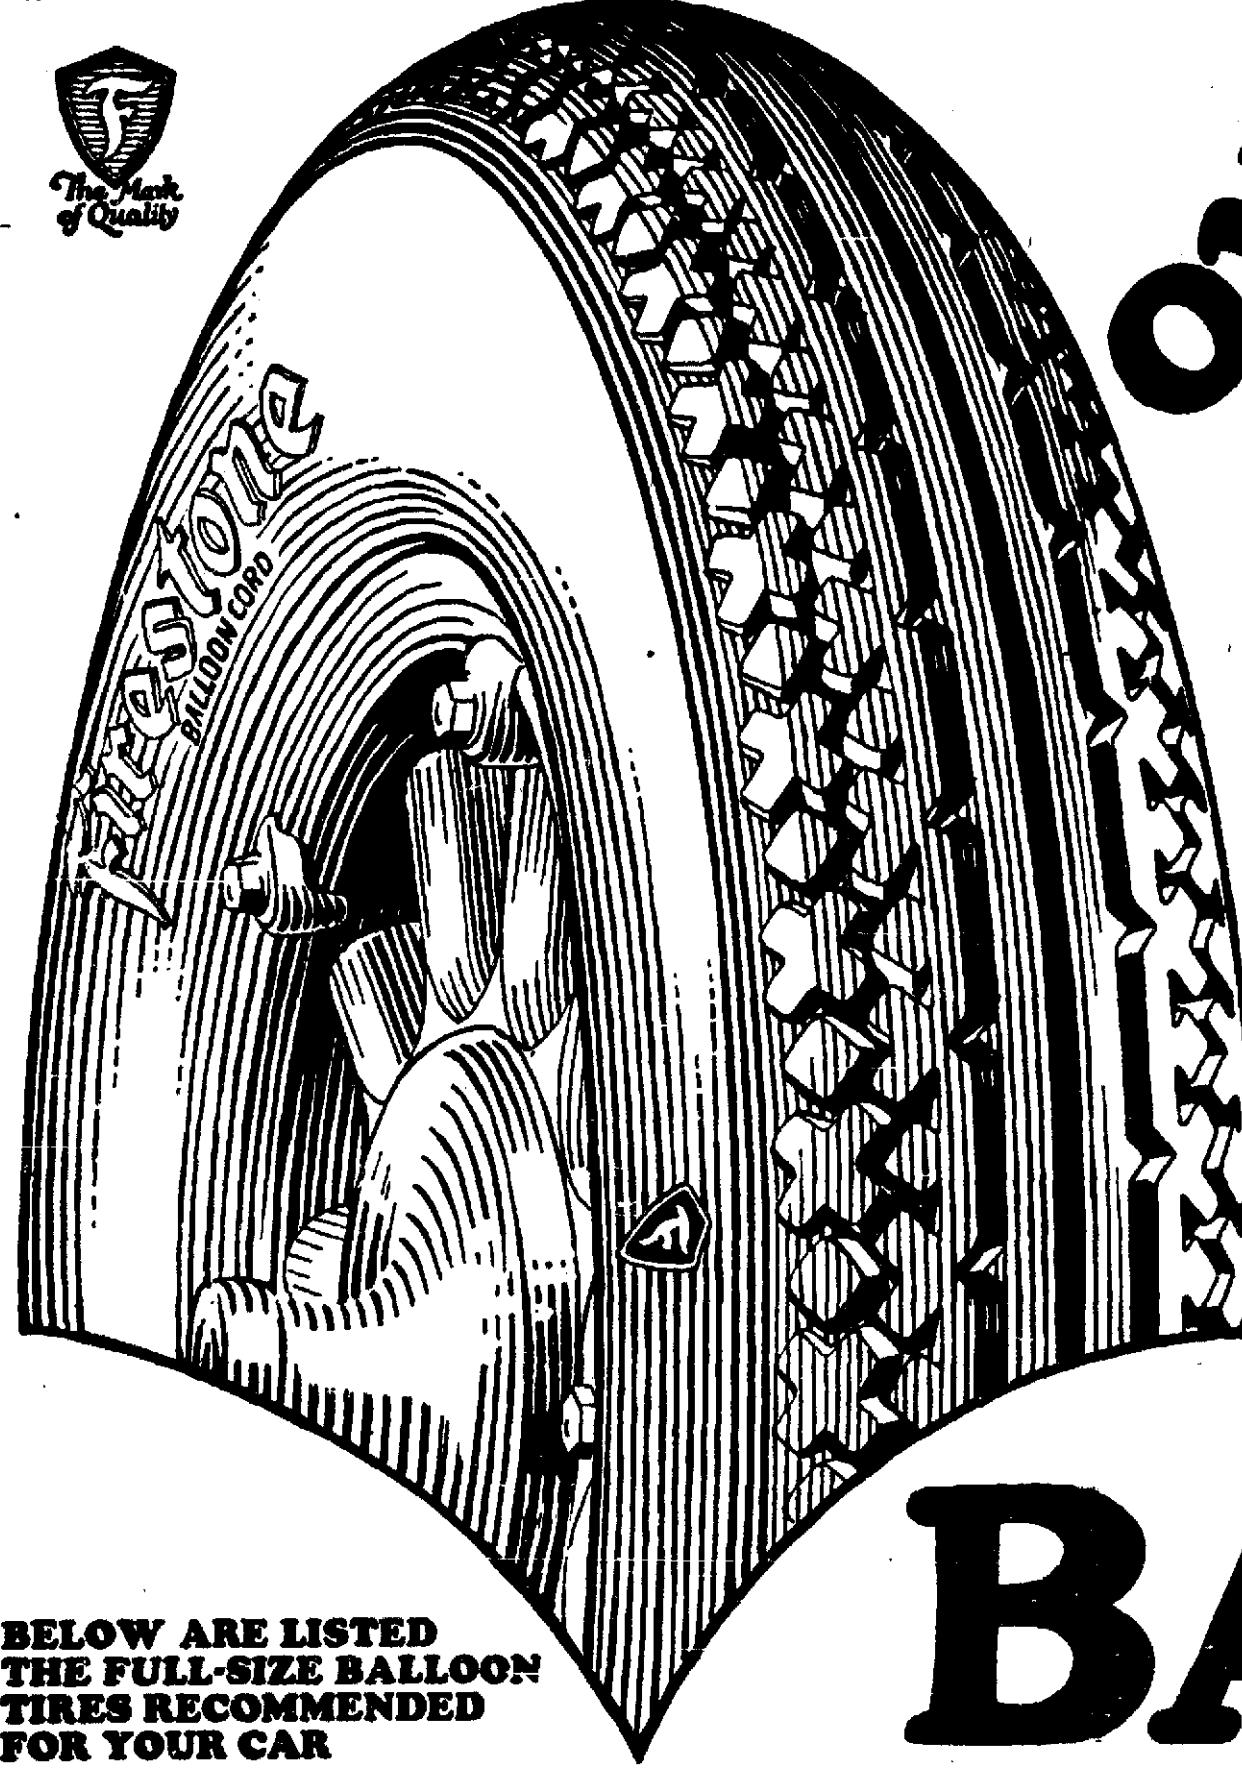

We on our part feel that an honor has been conferred upon the Rickenbacker Motor Company by the selection of this product by Downs Rickenbacker Sales Company as one they can fully endorse and enthusiastically recommend to their select clientele.

To measure up to his fullest responsibilities a distributor must represent you—his customer and his community—no less than the factory.

We believe you will agree that we have found and appointed one that will conscientiously represent you and truly reflect the quality of this car and the policies of this concern.

These remarkable low-pressure tires are sweeping the country in popularity. Everything we have said about their riding comfort, safety, car protection, fuel and mileage economy is borne out in actual service by enthusiastic users everywhere.

Firestone pioneered the Balloon Tire. Firestone concentrated two years' effort at a tremendous investment on this new form of construction—the most important improvement to motoring progress in recent years.

Firestone was building full-size Balloons on a quantity basis months ago. The present large production of the great Firestone factory enables us to offer you full-size Balloon equipment immediately and at lowest cost.

There's no delay in application to your car—and no effort on our part to substitute. We have the complete Firestone Balloon Change-over Units in stock—not only full-size Balloons, but Firestone-built wheels and rims in the small diameters required for successful Balloon results. We can equip your car in a few hours' time, without changing the hubs, brake bands or any part of the wheel except the rims and spokes. We know of no other tire dealers so well equipped to serve motorists in this territory.

Adopt full-size Balloons for your car now. Extend the utility of your car. Put a new enjoyment in long or short trips. Drive more safely under all road conditions—the year 'round. Get equal or better mileage than from regular cords. Make poor roads good and good roads better. Reduce vibration to a minimum, prolonging the life of your car and practically eliminating squeaks and rattles.

No one who has ever ridden on Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords will ever be satisfied with any other tires. Many prominent car makers, as you no doubt have noticed, have adopted them after very exhaustive tests.

Remember that we can provide you with these genuine, full-size Balloons promptly in the standardized size that fits your car.

You will be surprised what a difference in comfort, safety, car conservation and improved appearance our full-size Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords make. We, as well as the makers, stand back of these tires just as we do the standard size Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords—insuring your complete satisfaction. Come in and let us show you this remarkable achievement in tire manufacture.

Stalked to the Grave by the Ghosts of Her Wild Days

Winsome Zoe Got Rid of Four Husbands and $1,500,000, but Couldn't Escape the Fate She Foresaw

In the sudden death of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, practitioner, national beauty, "gold digger" and much-married adventuress, psychic investigators see an extraordinary case of "murder foresight."

Dr. Wilkins was found slain by a knife-thrust in the living room of her handsome home at Kansas City, Mo., within five minutes of the time-limit which she herself had set for the crime.

Gifted with a brilliant mind, extreme good looks, and a fascination for men which gained her gold and popularity, the handsome Zoe had an amazing intuition. Behind her stretched a wild career. She had wrecked two banks; dissipated a fortune of $1,500,000 and been wedded and divorced four times. Not even her most intimate friends knew how many spectres lurked in her past.

Before her lay—what?

"At least four persons have threatened to 'get' me," she remarked to her attorney, Jesse James, a week before she met her end. "I'm worried terribly afraid."

Precisely two days before she breathed her last, Zoe Wilkins astonished Mrs. Eva Grundy, a patient and friend, with the exclamation: "I have only forty-eight hours to live!" Her prediction was literally fulfilled.

Zoe Wilkins, fascinating and fickle, dreaded retribution. Like some siren of legend, she swayed and dominated man after man. The power which she had over the other sex was tremendous.

And yet her beginnings were humble, and there was no hint in her girlhood that she would ever become the luridly lovely figure that she did. Her parents—she was their thirteenth child—were ambitious for her, and by hoarding butter and egg money, they finally saved enough to send her to college at Kirksville, Mo.

A student in osteopathy, Zoe Wilkins was a pupil in the classes of Dr. C. K. Garring. He was rich. And—he fell in love with his pretty student. The two were married and went to Texas, where the bride, by reason of her beauty and intelligence, became widely popular. The newspapers hailed her as the "youngest society matron ever honored by a Governor at an inaugural ball."

Before a year had passed, a spectacular incident changed all this enthusiasm. Entering his home, one evening, Dr. Garring was shot and badly wounded by his wife.

"I thought he was a burglar," was all the sobbing Zoe would say when they questioned her.

Garring recovered; went to Tulsa, Oklahoma, and got a divorce. But Zoe had managed to get possession of most of his property in the meantime. To Tulsa, also, went Zoe, and there she made friends with a rich banker, later sent to the penitentiary for theft after his bank had been closed. "You see those jewels you're wearing?" he is said to have told her with a laugh. "I robbed my own bank to buy them for you!"

The next chapter in Zoe Wilkins' career began with her marriage to Grover Burcham, a wealthy furniture man. Six months later he fled from her, taking with him all his belongings. Years

*Goodbye, Zoe, forever
You can explain to my family what became of all my money. Farewell
Leonard*

The Ironic Letter from Leonard Smith, One of Dr. Wilkins' Many Admirers, to the Beautiful Adventuress, Written on the Eve of His Suicide.

elapsed. The Houston, Texas, police killed a man, caught red-handed in a robbery. It was Burcham.

Zoe Wilkins flashed across the horizon of Kansas City, where she gained a new admirer in Leonard Smith, a young druggist, with a substantial bank account. When Smith's body was found, lifeless, in an alley, two articles were on the ground beside him. One was a revolver. The other was a note addressed to Dr. Wilkins, reading:

"Good-bye, Zoe, forever. You can explain to my family what became of all my money. Farewell." He had killed himself.

But even this ironic incident did not halt Zoe Wilkins on her headlong path. In Colorado Springs, she met Thomas Zoe Wilkins in Cap and Gown, of a College Graduate Taken at Time of Her First Marriage.

W. Cunningham, millionaire banker, of Joplin, Mo., who was taking the first vacation he had ever had, leaving his aged wife at home. The spell of Zoe was as potent as ever.

She blossomed out in a brand new bungalow. She displayed flashing jewels.

Exterior of Zoe Wilkins' Kansas City Home.

She acquired $250,000 worth of stock in Cunningham's bank. Mrs. Cunningham sued for divorce and $1,000,000. Cunningham married Zoe. But it didn't last.

"She got nearly a million out of me," said Cunningham as, with a divorce decree in his hand, he went back to Wife No. 1.

Zoe's fourth husband was her chauffeur, Albert W. Marchefel, a Colorado Springs garage owner. He, too, went into the matrimonial discord, though he had been a great favorite of his much-married wife. Diamonds, a bank account and a touring car—these were some of the "little gifts" which she lavished upon him, according to rumor.

She also played a somewhat ghastly joke upon him during a fit of pique. Returning home from work, Marchefel found the front door hung with crepe. Inside lighted candles and a strong odor of carbolic acid testified to some sort of tragedy. When he lifted a sheet covering a human form and saw the red, white face of his wife, he nearly collapsed. But she was not dead. She was merely "fooling him."

The gap in time between that mock death and the real murder of Zoe Wilkins was a matter of years. When Zoe's body was found, the authorities set frantically to work to identify the player. They arrested three men: Charles Wilkins, brother of the beautiful victim, B. F. Tarpley, one of her patients, and Dillard Davis, colored janitor in Dr. Wilkins' home.

They examined bloody boots, Davis' property, and a blood-stained rope found near the scene of the crime. They "ran out" every available clue. Yet they were still baffled by certain points in the intricate mystery that had spread like a thick web over Zoe Wilkins' past and pointed the way to her terrible death.

Charles Wilkins was released under $1,000 bond, after being charged with murder in the first degree. Tarpley was likewise released. Davis swore that the blood on his boots was that of a horse—not a woman.

And in the precise details of Zoe Wilkins' murder remained clouded in impenetrable mist. "They may find the man, or woman, who killed her," whispers Kansas City. "They may even unearth the supposed motive." But the exact reason will elude them. It has gone to the grave with Zoe—and dead women tell no tales."

Amazing Hundred-Million-to-One Love Gamble

Science Stunned by the "Sweetheart-Twins," Who Were Drawn Together by a Secret Blood-Tie

FICITION, drama, even life itself have produced astonishing instances of love at first sight. But in a New England town has just been discovered an uncanny case of mutual attraction such as never before was recorded in the wildest flights of an author's fancy.

In a 100,000,000-to-1 heart gamble, the principals, a pretty nineteen-year-old girl and a stalwart nineteen-year-old boy, met, fell deeply in love, became engaged, were on the very brink of marriage—and found that they were twins!

Just why, out of the vast number of possible mates, these two should have chosen one another, is a problem which the most noted psychologists of the nation are attempting to analyze. The sweethearts were brought together by chance in their common birthplace. But why they should have instantly become infatuated, and the precise part which the blood-link should have played in the process, remains one of life's strangest and most fascinating mysteries, which science may never solve.

There might have been tragic issues arising from the unparalleled situation. Had the now-famous Buckley twins, of Charlestown, Mass., seen the abrupt outcome of their romance in a different light, they might have regarded Fate's prank as a cruel bit of irony. But charming Josephine Buckley and athletic Jimmie "Brady" Buckley were not angry when Destiny deprived them each of a husband and bride. Instead, they rejoiced that they had found a missing sister and long-absent brother.

Parted at the age of four, for fifteen years the Buckley twin pined for a sight of one another—vainly. And, instead of being lured by mountains and oceans and boundary lines, all the time they were living within three minutes' walk of their two homes!

Their natures were different. There was no broken ring or bethmark with which to establish the family tie between them. They might have gone in ignorance to the altar, if their tell-tale birth certificates had not suddenly provided the amazing answer to the riddle of their mutual affection.

But let Josephine Buckley tell the remarkable story in her own words—words which carry far deeper conviction than those of any outsider:

"People think I'm sad because I found out my fiance was my brother. That's foolish! Why we're both glad, thrillingly happy, because all this happened. But you can't understand unless you yourself happen to be a twin. Twins are funny. They just have to be together, to share everything. To separate twins is like taking two roses on one stalk out of water. They die."

"I believe I'd have died from loneliness long ago unless I'd been sure in my heart that some day I'd find Jimmie. You see, even though we'd been apart since we were tiny kids, I remember him—not his face, but his soul—and he remembered mine."

How the Pretty Ladies Wrecked the Billionaire Shah

While the Throne of Persia Tottered, Its

Pudgy Ruler Couldn't Tear Away from Paris Charmers, on Whom He Spent $20,000,000

By a Diplomatic Attaché.

PARIS.

NEVER fiddled while Rome burned and Manuel of Portugal danced himself out of a kingdom with the gay Gaby as a partner. But the tumble of neither was quite as spectacular as that of the billionaire Shah of Persia, who, dazzled by the coquetry and flattery of two thousand pretty women, has just awakened here to the fact that his throne has tottered under him and, like Manuel, he is stranded in the city of his dreams, jobless.

Literally and idiomatically, the Shah fell hard. There is 260 pounds to his five-feet-five. Until four years ago he had never looked upon the face of a woman. Then, all of a sudden, he was thrown into the midst of flocks of them. Not only were their faces bared, but as much of their anatomy as the law allowed, displaying skin of dazzling whiteness. He lost his head completely; and with it his vast riches, his power, his kingdom. And now, plucked naked as a fledgling, thrust aside by ten million idolizing subjects who once called him "Center of the World" and by a hundred pretty women who called him, among other things, a "poor boob," he is, for the first time, seeing life as it really is.

There is a note of pathos in the fate of this unwise man of the East. He is only twenty-seven and has been a king since he was eleven. He was a ridiculous yet pitiful figure when they placed him on the throne. The poor fellow cried during most of the ceremonies, encrusted with $10,000,000 worth of jewels, wouldn't stay on his head and the $12,000,000 chair was as hard as the road he is now traveling. As the tears coursed down his chubby, brown face he declared he didn't want to be a king, and wanted only his mother.

Ahmed Mirza, for that is his name, remained in Teheran just an overgrown, sloppy boy, getting fatter and fatter, until four years ago. Nothing interested him. Then, in a moment of mental aberration, someone suggested that he see something of the world. They took him to London, then brought him to Paris. And that was the beginning of the end.

Teheran has never been the same to him. His one thought, when he went home, was to get back to Paris. He arived last July. I saw him for the first time the day he came. There was a parade in his honor, and he rode along the Champs Elysees, a grotesque figure squatting in a carriage beside the dignified Millerand.

The President left him at the Crillon. He was scarcely out of sight before Ahmed Mirza had telephoned to Maurice, the maître d'hôtel at Ciro's. They closed up Ciro's that night to everyone but the Shah and his guests. There were many such wild nights at Pre-Catalan, Claridge's and the Café de Paris.

Then, one afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the Shah, driving through the Place Vendôme, decided to stop at the Ritz. For those who may not know, 4:30 in the afternoon is cocktail time at the Ritz. Down the long corridor, through the flashiest crowd in the world, past the tea rooms and into the garden of the American bar waddled the Shah, puffing like a Citroën. Americans were everywhere about him—dazzlingly beautiful women and patronizing men.

To the French the novelty of a potentate had worn off. But to the Americans, gathered at the Ritz at cocktail time, he was quite an attraction. True, he is dark-skinned and pudgy and fat, but he was, too, enormously wealthy and the occupant of a throne.

The Shah fell madly in love with the American women—not with any particular one—but with them all. He raved over the Dolly girls and Pearl White, and when little Edith Kelly, who was Frank Gould's wife, dragged his rotund form across the floor in a bewildering series of steps, the Shah ascended to the seventh heaven. They invented a new dance—the cat's glide—and stepped it all night long. He met and idolized the Baroness d'Erlanger, who was Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, and raved over Jean Nash, reputed the best-dressed American girl in Europe.

There were oceans of champagne and barrels of money. One night the Shah hopped out the Amazzoneurs, where the Dolly girls were dancing, and gave a grand fete; on another he took over a hundred American girls with him to the Palace, where Harry Pilcer was the outstanding attraction. He played no favorites. A fleet of Renault cars carried his guests up the Montmartre hill to Sacré Coeur, and the far-famed Nini prepared a feast which was served in the open square, back of the stately church, with the lights of the city twinkling far below. Acrobatic dancers performed on the tables, and one of them, who had been balancing a champagne bottle on her head while she stood on her hands, suddenly snatched the straw hat of the Shah (who had long since discarded his fez) and balanced that on her dainty nose while the fat sides of Persia's ruler fairly shook with laughter.

On still another night the Shah, who had become a regular visitor to the Latin Quarter, gave a wild party at the Rotunda, that famous resort where the artists gather with their models and offer their pictures for sale. While he was there, a caricaturist sketched the fat little potentate with a model on his knee, and it was stuck up on the wall with the other pictures, where it remains to this day, to the delight of the visitors and the dismay of Quai d'Orsay.

The Shah later staged an orgy in the Cabaret des Oubliettes Rouge that set the whole town talking. Oubliettes Rouge is a series of dark, dank, underground passageways in the Latin Quarter that once formed a part of the Petit Chatellet. There aristocrats were trapped during the revolution and slaughtered like sheep. It was only re-opened a couple of years ago.

The weather and the surroundings in Paris were becoming warm and the Shah went to Cannes, whether all the pretty ladies had gone. His poly-poly figure in a bathing suit was one of the weird and wonderful sights at the beach. When things slowed up a bit, the Shah staged a confetti battle to which he invited fifty American women. Among them were Mrs. Walter S. Worrall, Mrs. William Farnestock, Mrs. Elinor Pratt, Miss Mary Perkins, the Baroness d'Erlanger and Jean Nash. It was a hilarious affair, with the Shah among the principal fun-makers.

When fall came it was expected that the Persian ruler would be willing to return to his kingdom. His funds were exhausted, despite the fact that he had been drawing heavily. Many of his diamonds had been sold. He sent home for more of both.

Meantime the mutterings of the populace in Teheran had grown into a roar of indignation. They refused to send him more money, but did send a case containing one of the richest collections of diamonds ever assembled. Then they started a revolution. Still the Shah refused to return.

A few weeks ago the Paris newspapers carried advertisements offering for sale a magnificent collection of jewels. It developed they were the ones Ahmed Mirza had received from Persia.

With the money derived from their sale the Shah is continuing his gay life. Most of the fashionable have deserted him. But he is finding pleasure among the models and stenographers. They are riding in expensive cars and are covered with diamonds. He has spent $20,000,000 on wine, women and incidentals thereto.

Persia, sorely pressed for money, has Appealed to the great powers to save its financial life. America contributed $2,000,000 to feed its starving. Still the Shah dallies with the will o' the wisp of gaiety. His throne is only a relic. His subjects have determined to form a republic. He will probably never be permitted to return to the land of his birth.

The SLEEVE BECOMES WIDER and MORE ORNATE

IT is significant of the present ornate ribbon or even rows of little fashion tendency that at a certain important dressmaking establishment the boast is made that no two frocks produced there are made with sleeves exactly alike. They are varied in shape, in cut, in trimming or in finish.

So apparently sleeves are emerging from their long interim of obscurity. To be sure there have been persistent efforts to bring sleeves back to importance. Or rather the dressmakers or designers have constantly been putting out little feelers in the way of frocks with ornate sleeves, to see whether the women who buy the clothes and chance the dressmakers were ready for a return of sleeve elaborateness. But until now apparently the women have been perfectly willing to go simply sleeveless.

Ornateness Appears.

The long tight sleeve is almost always finished with some sort of interesting cuff or other decoration and the sleeveless or very short-sleeved frock shows signs of decorative application about the upper arm. The very short puffed sleeve dressed women were by no means no longer an oddity and the arm-ready to abandon it in favor of hole of the sleeveless frock is sleeveless frock. And it may be several years in making its final exit ornamented ribbon or even rows of little

A certain student of costumery once made the statement that if he saw but the sleeve of a fashionable gown of any period he could immediately place it. To the person versed in the clothes lore of the ages the whole story might be written in sleeves! What an interesting hobby this would be—the study and collection of sleeves! A world of romance hangs in some sleeves. Take the very long sleeves in fashion in the twelfth century—the exaggerated cuff of which hung like a "pendant cance"—so long that it had to be tied and knotted back lest it trip the wearer. These elongated sleeves were to the naps of the middle ages what the very short skirts were to our own flappers a few seasons ago.

Preachers railed against them, just as preachers a few years later railed at the exaggerated length of women's skirts, which were regarded as pernicious and immoral. A cartoonist of the day of the knotted sleeve when he wished to depict the tempter himself showed him with these exaggerated arm coverings.

And whenever sleeves became exaggeratedly wide and full preachers and prophets arise to warn us against them. Whenever women turn the tables and go with bare arms loud protest is made against this fashion, at least until every one gets used to it.

Bare Arms Were Shocking.

All through the Middle Ages and the Early Renaissance period bare arms—even partly bare arms—were practically unknown in Europe. In England there seemed to be an especially strong prejudice against any shortening or slashing of the sleeve that would show the skin of the arm. It was regarded as quite immodest. In the reign of Henry VIII short sleeves and gowns with no sleeves at all were introduced from France. It was the first time since the days of the ancient, barbarian Britons that English women had shown their arms, and great was the excitement and alarm. It gave moralizing preachers subject for exhortation for weeks to come.

At the present time we seem to have become immune from any possible alarm or excitement that might be derived from the sight of bare arms. Possibly that is why we are willing to go back to sleeves more elaborately made and trimmed. But don't expect too much. The change is certainly not coming overnight. The sleeveless frock for daytime is by no means obsolete. At southern resorts in late winter it is no longer an oddity and the arm-ready to abandon it in favor of hole of the sleeveless frock is sleeveless frock. And it may be several years in making its final exit

Interesting Wrist Adornment.

The long, straight, rather tight sleeve is also still used, but among French dressmakers there seems to be a tendency to give this some interesting treatment at the wrist. Often it fits closely to the wrist, there ending in a little flare. This is often lined with some brightly contrasting lining. For the tailored suit that is built strictly along manish lines the straight sleeve is of course the only choice, but on many of the less severe models we find the sleeve that gradually widens giving a generous opening at the

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

By RUDY AYRES
© NEA SERVICE

She told him sobbingly: "Mrs. Nigel Bretherton;" then, remembering, hastily corrected herself. "I mean, Mrs. Robert urban. Oh, she cannot, cannot be drowned." "First reports are nearly always exaggerated," he said quickly, with kind hopefulness. "And the Mutine was not a very big steamer. She carried only a few passengers, I know. My brother came home from the Argentine on her last month. They may all be saved. You must hope for the best."

"Your mistress is wet through," he said. "See that she changes her clothes, and give her something hot to drink."

Mary had already gone on into the flat. She felt as if this last blow was more than she could bear; it seemed to crush her to the ground.

She was sitting in dumb misery in the cosy sitting-room when the small maid came in hurriedly with a steaming cup of coco.

"The gentleman said you were to drink this, miss, and that he'd be back as soon as he could. And your clothes so wet!"

The coaxed Mary to change, and stood over her while she drank the coco.

"I don't suppose it's any of it true," she maintained stoutly. "You can't believe a word of what them papers say."

Mary had to smile in spite of her wretchedness.

"It's only too true," she said. "Something tells me it's only too true."

CHAPTER XVII

No Hope

It seemed an eternity till a ring at the bell broke the silence. Mary herself went to open the door. One glance at the face of the man who stood there in the wet night told her that there was but little to hope for. She gave a little gasp, and leaned against the door with a feeling of sick giddiness.

"It's—it's true?" she asked faintly.

He answered reluctantly that he was afraid so. Of course, as yet details were not complete, but it was known that many of the passengers were drowned.

He would not come in when Mary asked him to, but he said he would be sure to let her know if he heard anything further that night.

"It is kind of you," she told him. "I have no one else to help me. Will you—May I know your name?"

He colored boyishly.

"Evans—Henry Evans." He hesitated. "And may I know yours?" he asked diffidently.

"Mary—Mary Furnival."

She shook hands with him when he left; she stood at the door of the flat looking after him till he had disappeared down the long flight of stone steps.

Then she went back to the room, and cowered, shivering, over the SHE ASKED.

"WHAT SORT OF A WOMAN IS MARY FURNIVAL?"

Nigel dead? Dolly dead?

Mary found herself wondering if, somewhere on the other side of the mystery we call death, husband and wife had met.

Such a few days had measured their separation, after all, and yet they had never loved each other.

She rose stiffly when the fire had quite died out, and crept to bed.

Directly she woke in the morning she thought of the papers. Surely the truth would be known now!

The little maid brought them to her. Mary opened them with shaking fingers.

But only fast night's news, with a few added details, was printed.

But as the day dragged away further details crept out. A brief list of passengers and crew was published at the offices of the shipping company, where Mary, waiting wearily, hour after hour, watched the slowly added names with haggard eyes.

Somehow all her anger and bitterness against Nigel's wife was vanishing—wiped out by the merciless hand of Death.

And then she saw her name, and that of the man she had married, go up at the end of that short, incomplete list: "Durham (or Dunham), Mr. and Mrs. Robert—drowned."

She never knew how she got out of the office. She felt as if she were walking in space.

For a moment Mary's heart was dead and incapable of further suffering. She felt as if she had reached the end of her tether of endurance, and nothing mattered any more.

There were letters waiting for her when she got back to the flat, but she let them lie on the table unopened. She had forgotten David Bretherton and her own miserable indecision in the horror of this fresh tragedy.

It was only hours after their arrival that Mary opened those letters. One was a brief acknowledgement from the owner of the flat in reply to her own intimation that she wished to leave; and the other—Mary turned it over dully. She did not know the writing, but the postmark—

Her heart beat a little faster as she saw that. She broke open the flap.

The paper was expensive, and embossed with a heading—"The Red Gauge."

"My dear child" (it began). "David tells me that he has asked you to come here and live with us, so I am just writing to assure you of my very hearty welcome, both for your own sake and dear Nigel's. We will do our very best to make you happy, and try and help you forget your sorrow."

Come as soon as ever you like. I am having Nigel's room prepared for you. I thought you would like to have it.

"Perhaps you have not heard of me, but from what David has told me of you, I am sure we shall grow to love each other, and such is my sincerest wish."

"Believe me, my dear child,

"Yours affectionately,

"Nigel's Aunt Florence."

Aunt Florence! Nigel had spoken of her so often. He had loved her dearly. How good of her to write!

So they really wanted her! There was something in the simple warmth of the letter that felt like kindly hands outstretched to grasp her own.

"Nigel's room! How dear of them to think of that!"

But, of course, it could never be. Now she would have to finish that letter to David which she had begun only yesterday, and tell them the truth.

She folded the letter from the Red Grange, and thrust it out of her sight in a blotter. She resolutely walked from the room, determined to forget it.

But the insidious voice of temptation walked with her, whispering, always whispering: "Why not? Why not?"

CHAPTER XVIII

An Experiment

Montague Fisher and David Bretherton had been friends ever since their schooldays, when Fisher had "fagged" for Bretherton, and adored him as a younger boy will sometimes look up to and make a hand-roll of an elder who is more brilliant and popular than himself.

When Bretherton came into the inheritance and rent-roll of Rod Grange, one of the first things he did was to look up his old friend—that young lawyer but just beginning to feel his way—and hand over his affairs for Fisher to deal with.

It was through him that Nigel's generous allowance had been paid while David was abroad, through him that the estates had been administered during their owner's absence.

But the old friendship between the two men still existed in spite of their business relations, and Fisher had been genuinely delighted to see David again.

He was thinking of him one morning as he sat in his office, signing letters that had been prepared for him by his typist.

By the early post he had heard from David to the effect that he had arranged for his brother's widow to come to Red Grange.

"...We can but see how it works" (so he wrote). "Aunt Florence is quite willing for the experiment to be made. She entirely agrees with me that we ought to do everything in our power to help her now Nigel is gone..."

"It's a mistake—I'm sure it's a mistake," Fisher said across the breakfast-table to his sister. "David hasn't seen the girl, and I have. I'm sure he'll regret having taken such a step."

"He can always send her away," said Dora idly.

She was breakfasting in a loose teagown, and her hair was carelessly dressed.

Now that David was no longer in the house, she had reverted to her usual rather slovenly habits. She yawned as she spoke.

"What sort of a woman is she?" she asked, without much interest.

Monty hesitated.

"Well, I dare say you'd call her pretty—in a common sort of style," he said hesitatingly. "She's got rather good hair, reddish sort of color. Oh, yes, she's decidedly pretty. But there's something cheap about her. I don't know if it's her clothes or her manners, but I'm sure that she won't suit David for long."

"I shouldn't think David would suit her, either, if she's what you describe. She'll find the Red Grange dull, and David uninteresting."

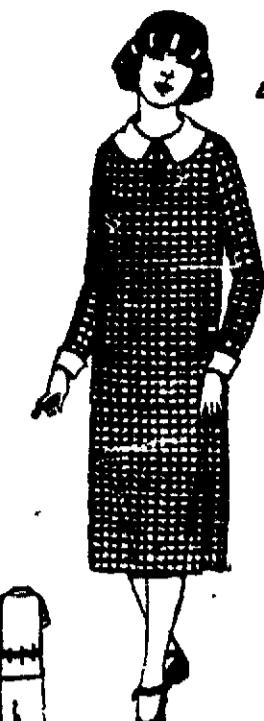

Monty laughed rather ruefully.

"If she does, she'll be too clever to let him know it. She struck me as being the sort of woman who would sell her soul for money and luxury."

Oh, no! I should say she'll settle herself there quite permanently. It's a pity. I told David what I thought about it; but you know what he is once he gets an idea into his head. He seems to imagine he's got a very strong hold towards this girl—a duty which might well be discharged with an allowance, I should have thought."

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW, CONTINUED

I arrived back at the office, Bee, the very instant that Leslie drove up to the curb with my returning "boss." I do not think you know that he has been out of town ever since I have been away.

His most intimate friend, whom you probably met at the wedding, Sydney Carton, got smashed up in an automobile accident, and as Carton has no relatives whatsoever, Mr. Prescott considered it his duty, and I imagine his pleasure as well, to be with him for a week or ten days.

Bee, Leslie grows more beautiful every year. Yesterday morning she was looking particularly lovely, and it was very evident that Mr. Prescott appreciated the fact and had been saying something very nice to her just as I drove up. Distinctly I caught fleeting sight of that light that never was on land or sea, as it enveloped them.

It was gone so quickly that I wondered if I had really seen it, but I confess, for the first time since Sam's death, I had a distinct feeling of loss.

Once in the long ago, Sam had looked at me like that, and it had given me a feeling that I shall never forget; for after all that I have said to you in this letter, there is nothing on God's green earth so good for a woman to hear as that primitive cry of man: "I love you. I want you!"

Intellectual and spiritual love are both very beautiful things, but the human love between man and woman is the keenest of all human emotions. I know that it's life's supreme adventure, and altho mine had been finished long before Sam's death, yet I have had it, and the memory of it came again to me as I my youth is closed. Altho I am not so very old, I expect never to me again will come that great adventure. I have had it, but when I would have hugged it to my heart, it was gone, and like all my sex I tried to hang on to it, and buried and bruised, not only my fingers, but my heart, before I realized that one may not need adventure to his will.

Now I am going to arrange my life as nearly as I can on a man's plan. I'm going to try to amuse myself and let it go at that. Dear Bee, I would never dare to say this to any one but you. Any other of my sex would think I was going to enter immediately upon a life of license. You, dear, know that I am just afraid—afraid to let myself be hurt any more. Soon I'll write you a letter and tell you about my "boss." He is most interesting, and deserves a letter all to himself.

Lovingly, SALLY.

SLAYER OF GIRL IS HANGED

Murderer Pays With Life At Colorado Penitentiary

VICTIM SHOT TO DEATH

Tragedy At Mining Camp Results From Love Affair

CANON CITY, Colo. — (Associated Press) — Joseph McConigal, convicted murderer of Miss Ella Centers, was executed at the Colorado penitentiary here today.

The execution was witnessed only by those required by law to be present, namely Warden Thomas Tynan, Father Regis Barrett, penitentiary chaplain, a physician and six prison officials.

Details were not made public.

The crime for which McConigal was hanged occurred June 2, 1922, at a coal camp near Aguilar, Colo. Miss Centers was shot down by McConigal, according to the testimony at the trial, while he pleaded with her to spare his life.

A few moments before the girl was slain, Wilbur N. Ferguson, a Colorado school of mines student, who boarded at the Centers had been killed. It was testified that Miss Centers had refused McConigal's demands that she refuse to talk to Ferguson.

ABE MARTIN

On th' Coming Campaign

GENERAL APATHY

There's ever' indication that th' comin' national presidential campan'g is hard boiled. An' determined jest like a mob. They're gettin' ready t' swing t' th' party that offers th' surest relief from taxation. Th' comin' fight won't be a red fire campaign. We know an' ole campaigner that's carried torches an' transparencies, an' rode an' marched in parades, an' held poll books, an' made speeches, an' rounded up voters, since way back in '76, an' he says he's jest layin' low an' sayin' nothin', but that he intends t' vote for th' feller that promises t' slash taxes, "but," said he, "ther hain't a man that's prominent in th' political affairs o' th' nation t'day that I'd waste a roman candle on."

RHEUMATISM
While in France with the American Army I obtained from noted French physician a prescription for the treatment of Rheumatism and Neuritis. The prescription cost me nothing. I ask nothing for it and will mail it if you will send me your address. A postal will bring it. Write today. PAUL CASE, Dept. 832, Brockton, Mass.

Your Next Car

Will be this Light-Six, if you learn the truth

WHEN you buy a car in the "thousand-dollar" class, here are some things you should know.

We made a canvass of men who bought rival cars in this class. And we found that 96 in each 100 bought without knowing these facts.

So, for your sake and our sake, we want to present them to you.

Save $200 to $400

Studebaker builds 150,000 fine cars yearly. It builds in model factories, modernly equipped. It has spent $35,000,000 in the past five years on new-day plants and equipment.

By quantity and up-to-dateness it saves large sums per car. A car like this Light-Six, built under ordinary conditions, would cost $200 to $400 more.

Read the proof at the side. Built by the leading fine-car maker, for whose cars last year people paid $201,000,000.

Each car, in the building, receives 32,000 tests and inspections.

The crankshafts are machined on inch. And 122 are exact to one-half that.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Unusual equipment. Scores of extra values.

Made by the leaders

This is one of the cars which has made Studebaker the leader in quality cars. Our sales have almost trebled in three years. The trend toward Studebakers has become a sensation.

Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

Back of this car is an honored name, which for 72 years has stood for high ideals.

Behind it are $90,000,000 of assets, staked on pleasing you better than others.

Before you pay $1,000 or more for a car, these are facts you should know and compare. You owe that to yourself.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance: It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rather than 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free—clip the coupon below.

How Capital Is Secured

(Chapter Three)

In the preceding statement there was shown in a general way the first step in the issuance of securities.

The second step is to convert securities, authorized by proper corporate action and permitted to be issued under proper state authority, into cash. Securities of this character are ordinarily marketed through investment banking houses who buy these securities outright before offering them to the public.

Before such securities are purchased, a searching examination is conducted by the prospective buyer of the company's property and accounts, and its earning power for a period of years; a careful and thorough survey is made by independent engineers of the physical conditions of the company's property and the extent to which the territory in which it operates is covered; its prospects for future growth; the character of the service it renders and the permanency of such service; and the extent to which such utility possesses the good will of the community or communities which it serves.

Coincident with the examination into the financial affairs and the condition of the physical equipment of the company, a most thorough and exhaustive examination is made as to the legality of the securities to be issued and the validity of the franchises or indeterminate permits under which the company does business.

Under these conditions, it is self evident that the securities of stabilized public utilities offered by reputable and responsible investment banking houses possess an element of safety of both principal and interest second only to those of states or municipalities.
